G. O. P. COMMITTEE OUSTS TEDDY MEN

Accepts Resignation of Three and Vacates Seats of Three Others.

DUNCAN SUCCEEDS PEARSON

The Minnesota, Oklahoma, Ohio, West Virginia, New Jersey and North Carolina Bull Moosers Committeemen Lose Out

New York, Sept. 18.—The Republican National Committee today accepted the resignations of its members from Minnesota, Oklahoma and Ohio and declared vacant the seats held by members from New Jersey, West Virginia and North Carolina who are Roosevelt supporters. Successors were named to retiring members from Oklahoma, Ohio, New Jersey and North Carolina.

In the cases of Wm. Edwards, of West Virginia, whose seat was declared vacant and I. A. Caswell, of Minnesota, who resigned, the committee voted to ask the State committees of West Virginia and Minnesota, respectively, to recommend their successors. Mr. Edwards' seat was declared vacant because of his "disloyalty to the Republican party."

Franklin Murphy, former committeeman from New Jersey, was elected to fill the vacancy from that State created by declaring Borden Whiting no longer a member of the committee. E. C. Duncan was elected to succeed Richmond Pearson, of North Carolina.

Sherman Granger was elected to succeed Walter F. Brown, the retiring member from Ohio, and J. A. Harris was elected successor to C. C. Priestly, of Oklahoma.

The committee refused to recognize a telegram from Russ Avery, National committeeman from California, announcing his resignation and voted to expel him for "disloyalty to the Republican party." Chairman Hilles was empowered to appoint a subcommittee of three to recommend a successor to Mr. Avery.

This action was taken, it was explained, because a majority of the State committee of California are supporters of Col. Roosevelt and the choice of a Republican National committeeman could not be left to them. The sub-committee, Mr. Hilles announced, would confer with Republican leaders in California, concerning both the matter of Mr. Avery's successor and the situation in the State.

The sub-committee will report back to Mr. Hilles its findings.

A joint session of the National Committee and the advisory committee was held, lasting until after 6 o'clock. Chairman Hilles reported that the situation in the various States in regard to electors and which was unsatisfactory at the beginning of the campaign, is now in good shape.

He said that of the 100 electors on the Republican tickets in several States who turned out to be Roosevelt men all had been replaced except in Kansas, Nebraska and California. He added that the Kansas case is in the courts, the Nebraska case soon will be and that a special committee will arrange for a new organization in California and place Taft electors on the ticket under some other name than that of the Republican party.

Reports of conditions in their respective States were made by C. S. Warren, of Michigan; John B. Hanna, of Maryland; F. W. Estabrook, of Newhampshire; Henry Roraback, of Connecticut; Austin K. Colgate, of New Jersey; Sherman M. Granger, of Ohio; Wm. Barnes, Jr., of New York, and John Hays Hammond, of Massachusetts.

A resolution was adopted calling upon the electors of Kansas and Nebraska who were named as Republicans but who are now for Roosevelt, to at once retire. The resolution said that the position of elector is a position of trust and that these men owe a duty to the State as well as to themselves.

Secretary Reynolds said after the meeting that everything was done in complete harmony and the vote to oust committeemen was unanimos in every case.

INDICTED GUNMEN ARRAIGNED

"Lefty Louie" and "Gyp, The Blood" Enter Replies to Indictment—Gaynor Attacks District Attorney's Office

New York, Sept. 18.—Harry Horowitz, alias "Gyp, The Blood," and Louis Rosenweig, alias "Lefty Louie," charged with being two of the four men who fired the shots ending the life of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, entered replies to indictments of murder when arraigned before Supreme Court Justice Goff today. The plea was made through their attorneys. The accused men were remanded pending the naming of a date for their trial.

Acting District Attorney Moss continued today the examination of witnesses at the secret John Doe inquiry to determine whether the police suppressed any incriminating letters reported to have been in "Gyp" and "Lefty's" flat. He refused to say what progress had been made.

Mayor Gaynor today sent a letter to Commissioner Waldo congratulating him upon the arrest of all the persons charged with complicity in the Rosenthal murder and attacking the District Attorney's office.

"The cruel accusation, emanating like all the principal falsehoods in this case from the District Attorney's office that the police designedly invented and entered these false numbers on the blotter to prevent the capture of the motor car, is baseless in the sight of every sensible man," wrote the mayor.

"The period of clamor and falsehood seems now to be passing and the whole community is beginning to see how basely they have been imposed upon by the invented falsehoods which have ben published.

"While all this falsehood and clamor against the police force was going on, I was watching closely to see whether it was breaking down the discipline of the force, for which it was designed. I am happy now to congratulate the whole force on the admirable way in which they have conducted themselves under the most trying circumstances. Notwithstanding that one of their number wae found grafting, I have faith in the force as a whole."

FRACTURED HIS ARM.

Maxton Bank Teller Suffers Injury. Richmond Boosters—Other News.

Maxton, N. C., Sept. 17.—Several nights since, while playing leap frog with some of his friends, Mr. Wayne Williams, the popular young teller of the Bank of Maxton, had the misfortune to fall on the pavement and fracture quite severely his right arm. Dr. L. R. Kirkpatrick was called and after an examination deemed it wise to have an X-ray examination before setting it. Consequently he carried him to Charlotte the next day, where it was dressed. Mr. Williams is able to be out, but he will be unable to return to his duties for some time.

The Richmond Boosters gave Maxton a short visit this morning, coming in at 11 and leaving 15 minutes later. They had a full equipment of advertising paraphernalia and boosted Richmond for all they were worth.

The McLean block of buildings, consisting of four store rooms on the first floor and an opera house and Masonic lodge on the second floor, is beginning to take on a finished air. Workmen yesterday began laying the floors and rapid completion will be expected.

The condition of Mr. Jno. A. Southerland, who on Saturday suffered a stroke of paralysis, is unchanged and grave fears are entertained as to his ultimate recovery.

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 18.—S. Bransford Younger, aged 55, for 20 years general agent of the Norfolk & Western Railway in Lynchburg died here this afternoon, death being due to apoplexy.

STRIKING MINERS FIRE ON OFFICERS

Drive Large Posse of Deputy Sheriffs From Utah Copper Mines.

ALL OPERATIONS SUSPENDED

The Force of Deputies Is Unable to Handle the Situation and Gov. Spry Abandons Tour to Make Investigation

Bingham, Utah, Sept. 18.—Bullets greeted 35 deputy sheriffs who attempted to draw the fires under the boilers of the great copper mines here today. From behind breastworks they had thrown up since morning, striking miners who quit work today because the Utah Copper Company and several other concerns refused them an increase in wages, fired upon the officers and drove them from the mine works. None was injured.

Earlier in the day, however, while armed strike pickets stood guard at the approaches of the various properties, firing shots into the air, one of their number was wounded by Theodore Schweitzer, a deputy. The deputy had ordered the picket to cease firing. Upon his refusal Schweitzer shot the miner in the wrist.

Only one of the great copper mines here, that of the Utah Apex Mining Company, continued operations today. The company signed a contract with the miners a few days ago. The great Utah Copper Company, one of the most productive copper mines in the world, the Utah Consolidated, United States, Bingham-New Haven mines and a score of lesser mines, the Bingham and Garfield Railway and the ore traffic on the copper belt branch of the Rio Grande Railroad were closed tightly. Four thousand men, mostly foreigners, were idle and almost every idle man bore a weapon of some sort. They gathered in sulky groups discussing their grievances.

Following a conference with mine officials, late today, Sheriff Sharp, of Salt Lake City, wired Governor Spry that his force of deputies could not handle the situation. The Governor abandoned a speaking tour and hurried to Salt Lake City to make a personal investigation of the situation. All saloons have been closed by the order of Sheriff Sharp.

The Bingham miners made an informal demand several weeks ago for a flat increase of wages in all departments of 50 cents a day. On September 1st the Utah Copper Company announced a horizontal increase of 25 cents a day for all laborers and the other employers adopted the same scale. This was not satisfactory to a majority of the men and agitation for the full 50 cents raise continued.

Ten days ago a strike vote carried overwhelmingly. President Charles H. Moyer, of the Western Federation of Miners, came here and urged that diplomacy be exhausted before the declaration of a strike. However, the Greeks, Austrians, Italians, Japanese and Bulgarians, who largely outnumbered the American miners were insistent upon a walkout. The Americans in the union are said to have stood with Mr. Moyer, but when they found themselves outnumbered 10 to one they joined the majority in voting for the strike.

President Moyer said today:

"While personally I have done what I could to prevent this strike, now that it has come, I regard the demands of the men as fair and just and the Western Federation of Miners will back them completely. The men are working too long hours. The high price of copper certainly justifies the raise.

"The fact that Manager Jackling, of the Utah Copper Company, has just signed an agreement for five years with the miners in Montana would indicate that he is dodging the issue here."

Mr. Jackling has been visiting his properties in Arizona and New Mexico. In his absence his assistant, E. C. Gemmell, spoke for the company.

"We do not treat with the officers of the union regarding any matters connected with the mines," he said. "We do not recognize the federation. We are always willing to confer with our employes of properly appointed committees."

Two hundred million pounds of copper is produced monthly in the camps of Bingham. Should the strike be of long duration several thousand other men would be thrown out of employment by the shutting down of the reducing mills and smelters near here.

BAGWELL ACQUITTED.

Woodman Initiate Who Shot Milton Taylor, of Degree Team.

Anderson, S. C., Sept. 18.—A verdict of not guilty was returned yesterday in the trial of Furman Bagwell, charged with killing Milton Taylor last July.

Bagwell shot and mortally wounded Taylor when the former was being initiated into the order of the Woodmen of the World. He became excited when Taylor and other members of the degree team began firing blank cartridges. Rushing to his coat he secured a revolver and fired several shots. Taylor was the only person fatally wounded. Before death Taylor requested that Bagwell should not be prosecuted.

FRIEND OF ROSENTHAL MURDERERS ARRESTED

MAX. KAHN.

Max Kahn, to whom the police also give the names of Michael Polacheck and Samuel Kramer, an alleged pickpocket, was one of the men found in the hiding place of "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie," charged with the murder of Herman Rosenthal in New York on July 16, when they were arrested at No. 750 Woodward avenue, Glendale, Brooklyn. He is being held in $1,000 bail as a material witness.

THREATENED TO GET MONEY

Testimony Offered at Szabo Inquest That Lawyer Gibson Tried to Obtain Money From His Client by Threats

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 18.—Testimony was offered at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Rosa Szabo today that Lawyer Burton W. Gibson charged with Mrs. Szabo's murder, had tried to obtain a loan of $2,000 from Mrs. Szabo ,and when it was refused had made threats to get it. The testimony was given by George Teichman, a friend of Mrs. Szabo, who testified that Mrs. Szabo had related to him the circumstances of the alleged demand for a loan from Gibson and his threats to secure it.

Teichman testiged that Mrs. Szabo was afraid of Gibson, fearing that he would get some of her money.

The witness said he was present when the body of Mrs. Szabo was exhumed and identified it as that of Mrs. Szabo. After evidence of a formal identification of the body had been taken the inquest was adjourned until October 10th.

Teichman spoke of the influence that Gibson seemed to exert over his client. He described it as a hypnotic influence.

"Did she ever remark to you that she was afraid of Gibson?" asked the coroner.

"Yes, she did," responded the witness.

"What reason did she give for being afraid of him?"

"I understand she was afraid he would get her money."

"Do you recall what she said to give you this impression?"

"I recall she told me he wanted to get $5,000 from her at six per cent interest. She refused to let him have it."

"And that was the reason he threatened her?"

"Yes."

"What did she say he threatened

WILSON CAMPS ON BULL MOOSE TRAIL

Governor Whirls Through Day of Speech-Making in Minnesota.

TALKS TO UNDERGRADUATES

The Nominee Attends Opening of University—Reiterates Objection to Proposed Industrial Commission.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 18.—Governor Wilson struck the trail of Col. Roosevelt for the first time in the campaign today when he whirled through a programme of speeches and receptions in the Twin Cities. He started for Chicago and Detroit, Mich., deeply pleased, he said, with the reception accorded him.

When the Wilson party reached Minneapolis this morning, the Commercial Club had breakfast ready and the Governor talked 20 minutes on the trusts and big business. Then motoring to the University of Minnesota, Governor Wilson passed crowds of school children who waved flags and cheered.

At the University President George Vincent introduced the Governor as a man who had removed the stigma of the doctrinaire from academic life, a scholar of politics, a scholar in politics, a scholarly politician and a statesman.

It was the opening day of the University and as the former President of Princeton looked into the upturned student faces, he said it was indeed a great pleasure. He emphasized the point that the students of this country did not take themselves seriously, preferring to be boys rather than attacking the serious problems of life.

He argued that most undergraduates waited for their diplomas before starting in life, when they should have a "running start", as commencement day arrives.

At the parade grounds, a broad green meadow in the residence district of Minneapolis, the Governor in the longest speech of the day, declared that the National campaign was not one of personalities, but issues. He paid tribute to President Taft and when on another occasion, the crowd construed that the Governor had referred to Col. Roosevelt, the speaker quickly corrected the impression.

The Governor reiterated his objections to the plank in the Progressive platorm advocating restraint of trusts by an industrial commission.

"I simply wanted to show you the inside of my mind," said the nominee in conclusion, "so that there may be no misunderstanding—so that you will not think that I am one of those wild fellows running amuck because I knew something was the matter and did not exactly know what. This is no Donnybrook affair. I have got my shillalah, but I am not hitting every head I see. I have selected the heads, and if they will only engage in a little hard thinking underneath the endangered craniums they need not be hit at all. I was ducted at Sioux City into an association by which I became a good Indian but that has not bred in me the desire for scalps. I am only imbued with a desire to rectify a condition that will be good for everybody."

In urging the subordination of the personal side of the campaign the Governor said he would not be one of those who, if defeated, would say the people had made a mistake. Privately, he added, he might think so, but he would not say so.

"I am a good enough sport to abide by your decision," said the Governor amid cheers.

At St. Paul tonight he addressed a crowd which filled the auditorium.

ESTABLISHING IDENTITY.

Snead's Accomplice Occupied Rooms With Him Near the Scene.

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 18.—That a supposed accomplice of J. B. Snead in the murder of Al G. Boyce, Jr., here on Saturday occupied rooms with Snead in a house near the scene of the tragedy, was the nearest approach to the establishment of the identity of Snead's alleged accessory, made today by the Potter county grand jury.

No clew has been obtained as to the whereabouts of the alleged accomplice.

An agreement between counsel for Snead and Judge Browning was reached today for the hearing on an application for a writ of habeas corpus made this afternoon.

DENOUNCES THE HIGH TARIFF

Gov. Marshall Declares That as Result of Protection Japanese Navy Buys Steel at Half Price United States Pays.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18.—Here in the early home of Abraham Lincoln, Governor Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, Democratic Vice Presidential candidate, in a speech in the armory declared that the martyred President was a Democrat at heart.

"In every heart throb Abraham Lincoln was a Democrat, although he may never have voted the Democratic ticket," said Governor Marshall who declared it was not a man's station in life that determined his politics, but his attitude toward his fellow men.

"Lincoln was essentially a lover of his fellows," the Governor said, "and he preached the doctrine of the brotherhood of man."

He said this government as now constituted was not a government founded on the doctrine of the brotherhood of man, but was a government for the benefit of the few. He then gave his views of government for the benefit of special interests.

Governor Marshall ended his first campaign tour here and will return to Indiana. Next week he will make speeches at South Bend, Ind., and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, Democratic nominee for Vice President, in a speech here tonight, charged that under high tariff the Japanese navy was able to buy steel at 50 per cent. of the price charged the United States government. He said:

"The tariff schedules of this country, which have produced the trusts and monopolies, have been enacted by a species of log-rolling and the never-ending changes in these schedules are helping one man and harming another without right. This produces the real cause of the unrest in business conditions.

"The manufacturer is coming to realize that it is to his interest to have peace and certainty and to have his business divorced from the tinkering of government; that the sum of the benefit to one man has been equaled by the sum of injury to others; that the legislation has been local in its character.

"People have laughed over the article in a September magazine on an industry wherein a trust magnate procured a tariff duty of 32 cents on single bananas in order that Jimmie might build glass houses on the barren farms of New England and raise bananas.

"But the exaggeration was not so ridiculous after all. Very much the same thing has been done. An Indianan got under the Payne-Aldrich umbrella because he could not raise pineapples without assistance. Every fever-stricken child must pay more for a pineapple that this man may be enabled to raise them. The lemon growers of California obtained one-half cent per pound tariff on lemons and thereby closed the mills at Bangor, Me., which turned out the material for lemon boxes, as the Italian lemon grower retailiated on the box manufacturers. A boost for a big man under this system has always been a knock for the little fellow.

"Once inoculate man with the right of special privilege and it goes into every drop of his blood. He thinks he is perfectly justified in taking it wherever he can get it, and legislators think they are equally justified in giving it whenever it is asked. Take this example, if you please, of the virus that is in our system, under Republican rule in the State of Maine the Bangor & Aroostock Railroad paid $100,000 a year taxes. By legislative authority $95,000 of this money was rebated to the railroad under condition that the railroad should haul the troops of Maine free of charge in the event of war with Canada. Under the Democratic administration this graft stopped and the railroad was told that

INQUIRY RESULTS IN GRAFT EXPOSE

W. R. Sheehan, Waldo's Secretary, Associated With Supposed Grafter.

TESTIMONY OF A DETECTIVE

D. J. Heller Testifies He Trailed Man Named Norton, Supposed to Be Collecting Police Graft, to Sheehan's House

New York, Sept. 18. — Investigation today by the aldermanic committee of the affidavit made by Police Captain John T. Reith that $10,000 had been demanded of him as the price of promotion to a captaincy durduring Commissioner Bingham's administration, developel testimony associating Winfield R. Sheehan, secretary to Commissioner Waldo, with a man "supposed to be getting graft."

The testimony was given by D. J. Kelleher, a private detective who said he had been assigned in December last by Alfred Johnson, the under sheriff whom Reith accused in his affidavit of having demanded the $10,000 from him, to follow a lawyer named Norton. This man "by common rumor," he said, "was supposed to be collecting police graft from his officers at 115 Broadway. He trailed Norton, he testified to Sheehan's house. Sheehan discovered him there and kept him locked in while he sent for two detectives, but he was not arrested. Norton, he said, collapsed.

A few days later, Kelleher testified, he met Sheehan by appointment and the commissioner's secretary said to him:

"What have you got on me?"

"I told him," said the witness, "that I had nothing on him, but that I did have something on Geo. C. Norton and that I had been sent to find out if Norton ever met Sheehan and that I had found him and that my job was done. I told Sheehan that Norton was supposed to be getting graft. He told me then he should be arrested. I stated that was a police job and not mine."

"Did Sheehan ask who you were working for?" asked Emory R. Buckner ,counsel for the committee.

"I said 'yes,'" replied Kelleher, "I thought I was working for Al Johnson."

"What did he say?"

"Sheehan said: That will be all right; we will get him," replied the detective.

Police Captain Bernard J. Kelleher, a brother of the witness, testified that Commissioner Waldo had said to him last June, "I am very sorry that a member of your family should have one of my men under surveillance."

The Kellehers were preceded on the stand by Johnson, who denied that he had ever demanded money from Reith.

"I saw him a couple of times," said Johnson, "and then he said he knew the job could be bought and that he had the money to pay. I told him he was a fool if he thought he could buy Gen. Bingham. He stuck to me and came to see me again and again until I was sick of his face and of him and I told him to get out of my sight and keep out."

Johnson admitted that he had had Norton investigated "out of curiosity," but he had stopped without learning "anything important."

Capt. Reith's testimony was in the main an elaboration of the already published charges made in his affidavit, which was produced at the beginning of the day's proceedings by Commissioner Waldo.

Reith swore he had "received word" that Johnson wanted to see him and upon visiting him Johnson informed him that his name was about to be certified for promotion by Gen. Bingham. Johnson then took him, he said, to see Thomas J. Hassett, former secretary to Mayor McClellan, as the man who could "do the business" for him.

"Hassett asked me some questions," testified the witness, "and later I got word to call at the home of Johnson. I went there and Johnson told me that he had done all he could for me and that I would have to put up $10,000."

"Upon failing to put up the money," Reith said, "he was passed over on the eligible list. He went to Commissioner Bingham to find out why, he said, and was told by him that he had 'the right to promote whom he pleased and that when he was ready to promote him he would.'"

Reith absolved Commissioner Bingham for any part in the alleged practice of selling promotions.

Reith said he would have been willing to have paid $10,000 for promotion. The job was not worth it, he declared, "but you don't have to work nights. You can get plenty of sleep."

General Bingham testified that he had not promoted Reith simply because he would not make a good police captain."

Buffalo, Sept. 18.—"Suicide Point," a little promontory overlooking the brink of Niagara Falls ,has been cut away by order of the State reservation commission. The removal of the jutting cliff proved much easier than had been anticipated. The number of persons who used the point as a jumping-off place increased so alarmingly during the past year or two that the commission decided to be rid of it.

WILL ROOT FOR BOSTON.

Taft Will be Down Among the Fans at World's Series.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 18.—Before the world's series of games in Boston one of the leading "rooters" for the Red Sox, who today were assured of the American League pennant when Philadelphia lost one game in Chicago, will be President Taft.

Day by day the President has watched the Red Sox keep up their fast stride toward the pennant and today announcement was made at the executive offices that he would be "down among the fans", when the first game of the world's series is played in Boston.

He had hoped that when he came to Beverly that the Washington team might win the pennant and expected to see at least one game on the Washington grounds in which his favorites figured. With Washington out of the race he turned his allegiance temporarily to the Red Sox and his sympathies will be with them in the post-season series.

Many letters bearing cheerful political news came to the Summer White House today. One was from former Governor Durbin, of Indiana, candidate for that office in the present campaign, who declared that Mr. Taft would win in Indiana. He added that thousands of Democrats, he believes, will vote for the President.

TAFT TAKES NO PART.

Favors no Candidate for New York Gubernatorial Nomination.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 18.—President Taft today denied published reports that he is taking any part in the contest in New York State for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. He made it known that he favors no candidate, and he expressed the hope that the convention would be an open one.

The following statement was issued: "The President wishes it understood that he is taking no part whatever in the contest for the Republican candidacy for Governor in the State of New York. The newspaper reports that he has favored one candidate as against another are entirely without foundation. He hopes and believes that the convention is to be an open one in which the best judgment of the majority of the Republicans of New York is to have expression in their selection of this year's candidates."

NO JOINT CANVASS.

Hardly Probable That Craig Will Meet Settle on Stump.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 17.—It is not believed in political official circles here that either Hon. Locke Craig or the State Democratic executive committee will give any favorable consideration to entering upon a joint canvass of the State with either Thos. Settle, the Republican nominee for Governor, or any other opponent of Democracy, during the State campaign now in progress. It would only get crowds for Republicans, it is said.

Mr. Settle challengd Mr. Craig for a joint canvass some days ago. Iredell Meares, the Progressive nominee, does not believe joint canvasses at all practical under present conditions, as much as he would enjoy meeting his opponents, Mr. Craig and Mr. Settle, on the stump.

RED SOX CLINCH THE FLAG

Boston Is Now Assured of American League Pennant If All Remaining Games Are Lost—Won't Play A Postponed Game

Boston, Mass., Sept. 18.—The Boston Red Sox today clinched the American League pennant. All possibility of the Red Sox being overtaken was disposed of when Philadelphia lost at Chicago today the first game of a double-header.

To relieve the tension among members of his team and to assure finality the pennant for Boston, President McElroy, of the Red Sox, notified the management of the New York Highlanders that Boston would not play off a postponed game scheduled for New York.

Boston now can lose all its remaining 15 games and win the pennant, even though Washington, which went into second place today, should win all its remaining 13 games, and Philadelphia should win all its remaining 14 games. Should this possibility develop, the standing would be as follows:

Team	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Boston	97	56	.634
Philadelphia	97	57	.630
Washington	97	57	.630

The league schedule calls for 154 games, but under the American League rules Boston can refuse to play its postponed games with New York, its series in New York with that club being closed.

RED SOX GETTING READY.

Planning for Seat Sale and to Handle World's Series Crowd.

(Special to Washington Post.)

Boston, Sept. 17.—"We expect to accommodate between 30,000 and 35,000 people at each game in the world's series here, at Fenway park, next month," declared Secretary Robert McRoy, of the Boston Americans this morning.

The office staff at the Red Sox headquarters is swamped with applications for the expected world's series games, and attendants are working far into the night filing and classifying the requests for seats.

In order to avoid any unpleasantness such as attended the series last year in New York, Secretary McRoy has made an ironclad rule that no money shall be accepted in connection with applications. All he desires at this time is the name and address of the applicant, together with some guarantee that the applicant is acting in good faith, and wishes the tickets for personal use.

Many applicants have followed the suggestion of mailing in their rain checks, as proof that they are bonafide attendants at previous games. Tickets will not be sent through the mails, and no reservations will be made of admission tickets. Applicants will be notified as to the time when seats will be available at the Red Sox office, when payment must be made.

GIVES ALL TO MISS IROLER.

Wesley Edwards Turns Belongings Over to Sweetheart.

(Special to Baltimore Sun.)

Roanoke, Va., Sept. 17.—That Wesley Edwards is truly in love with Maude Iroler was evidenced today, when it was learned that before being locked up in his cell in jail here he gave her all his possessions, which included $22.24, his gold watch and chain and his suitcase, containing his personal effects, among them a new suit of clothes.

Miss Iroler left here at 9:35 o'clock this morning on the Winston-Salem division train, accompanied by Detective Mundy. She seemed in good spirits, but had little to say. She maintained that her father will be angry when she gets home, but he has been informed that should she be badly treated she will go to the home of Wesley Edwards' mother.

"Wesley told me that he knew that his mother would give me a home if I should leave my people," the girl said. "While I know my parents will be angry with me, I do not think they will treat me badly."

W. G. Baldwin was asked this morning who would get the reward for the arrest of Allen and Edwards. He said:

"I have decided that $1,500 shall be divided between Detectives Mundy and Lucas and Frank Iroler, the father of Maud Iroler. The detectives had been at work on this clue for some time and Frank Iroler gave them additional information. They will be given $500 each.

"Miss Iroler will not get a cent of the reward. You see, the $1,500 is for information leading to the arrest. In all there was $2,250 reward for the two men, $1,500 for information leading to the arrest and $750 for the arrest and conviction. The $750 will not be paid until after the trials. The money to be paid the two detectives and Iroler is on deposit in the bank if Galax, Va., and will be paid in a few days."

Brighton B., Manriso and the Canadian filly each won one of the three heats in this event, the feature of today's Grand Circuit programme, but Princess Todd's standing in the final summary was highest.

THE DEMOCRATIC HANDBOOK

Copies Just Received by State Chairman Webb—Notable Introduction—"Local Self Government" Given Chapter.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 18.—Democratic State Chairman Chas. A. Webb has just received and has ready for immediate distribution throughout the State the 1912 edition of the North Carolina Democratic handbook, which is pronounced a most virile and complete volume, particularly notable in the lengthy introduction, as these paragraphs will show:

"Inside the State, the Democrats proclaim that they have continued to so conduct public affairs, that justice has been administered, quiet has reigned, economy has been practiced, education has been advanced, enlightenment has been diffused, morality has been increased, good roads have been built, agriculture has made great progress and the people have been contented and happy in their homes.

"Our promises have been kept and we have had a government by the people, well administered by the public servants chosen by the people to conduct their affairs of State. Our candidates for State offices were nominated by the convention almost without contest. Public sentiment selected the candidates and the convention only registered the popularity will that proved patriotic. Locke Craig being the leader and every association on the ticket being worthy, we go forward confident of victory."

"The Republican party in the State divided in two factions, one under the leadership of Morehead, Duncan, Settle, et al., the other under the leadership of Marion Butler and Richmond Pearson, each denouncing the other in the most disgraceful terms. They have nominated two full tickets, hopelessly divided in the Nation and hopelessly divided in the State, each side telling the truth about the other. Democratic success is assured beyond the shadow of a doubt."

A chapter on "Local Self Government" prepared by State Chairman Webb, treats the whole scope of this question as edifying on the liquor problem in the light of the attitude of all parties and concludes with this paragraph:

"It can, therefore, be seen that the overwhelming majority of what was formerly the Republican party in North Carolina declined to make the liquor question an issue in the campaign and likewise that the Democratic party does not and never has in any way regarded it as a political question and it is not now a political question."

Chairman Webb arrived today from a stay of several days in Asheville and elsewhere in Western Carolina and is busily preparing for the special meeting of the State executive and advisory committees called for tomorrow afternoon and night. Mr. Webb says he never knew conditions so auspicious for Democracy as in the West at this time. He found Republicans generally admitting that neither Settle nor Meares will make any showing at the polls worth seriously considering. Members of the executive committee will not be here in any considerable numbers before tomorrow morning. It seems a foregone conclusion that the committee will take action decidedly adverse to any joint canvass with Republican or other opposing candidates in this campaign. Also it seems probable that "Democratic ticket" will be interpreted to mean the voting of the National and State Democratic tickets, leaving discretion to the judges of election, possibly, to allow a reasonable privilege in scratching on personal grounds.

A fourth reprieve is granted for Jno. Ross by Governor Kitchin, the date fixed this time for the electrocution of this notorious negro being October 11th. This reprieve is for the reason that the solicitor desires to present further facts bearing on the effort that is pending for the commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment. Ross is the confessed murderer of the husband in the famous Dixon murder in Cleveland county. And he claims that a white man murdered Mrs. Dixon and really made him do his part in the dastardly crime. The trial judges, the solicitor and others are joining in efforts to have Ross commuted to life imprisonment.

A charter is issued for the American Home Publishing Co., of Raleigh, capital $100,000 authorized and $300 subscribed by W. M. Pace, B. F. Montague and J. M. Spaulding for general newspaper and book publishing business.

The members of the board of trustees of the Farm Life School of Craven county, Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. D. H. Hill, president of the A. & M. College, left tonight for Baltimore to inspect the Agricultural High School of Baltimore county, at Sparks, and to visit other noted farm life schools in other States with a view to getting ideas, information and suggestions for the planning of the farm life school for Craven county, which is to be established now as speedily as possible. This Craven school is the first under the general act of the 1911 Legislature. After the $15,000 bonds were voted by the county there was litigation as to the constitutionality of the act instituted by the purchaser of the bonds to test their validity. The Supreme Court has sustained the act and the validity of the bond issue. So there is to be no further delay in establishing, equipping and opening the school. It is the determination of the Craven county and the State educational authorities to make the Craven Farm Life School an effective demonstration of the possibilities there are in the Farm Life School act, whereby the counties can establish the plant, provide a portion of the maintenance fund and receive from the State an annual appropriation for maintenance of $2,500.

Mr. C. M. Smith, actuary in the State department of insurance, has been sent by State Insurance Commissioner James R. Young to Greensboro to check up the figures that constitute the basis for the merger of the Jefferson Standard, the Greensboro Life and the Security Life of Greensboro. This merger is to be effective September 20th—Friday of this week.

The argument of Fourth district appeals is progressing rapidly in the Supreme Court this week and will be completed probably Friday. Lawyers here for these arguments include T. T. Thorne, F. S. Spruell, E. B. Granthum, L. V. Bassett, Jacob Battle, of Rocky Mount; G. M. T. Fountain, G. M. Fountain, W. O. Howard, of Tarboro, and H. G. Connor, Jr., and F. S. Hassell, Wilson.

Drought conditions that threatened to become very serious were relieved here today by quite a heavy rain. One of the very great benefits that the rain will confer will be to relieve dangerous conditions in Raleigh's water service. The water in Walnut creek had become so low that the management of the water plant had announced that the necessity was at hand to cut off the water several hours every day to give opportunity for the pumps to bring the supply in the reservoirs up to what is regarded as a safe guage. Crops, too, are sure to be greatly benefitted by the rains.

FOOTBALL AT WAKE FOREST

Men Being Put In Trim—Schedule Arranged—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest College, Sept. 18.—The football prospects of the coming season are creating a great deal of interest at this time. At no time in the past several years have things looked as good in football as it does now. It has been remarked by a number of the old men that there were more good material among the freshman class than had ever been seen here before for football, and if looks has anything to do with it, material is not wanting. And the new men are not the only ones that are here who take part in football. A number of the old men have returned, some of which are, Carter, Dunn, Britton, Holding, B., "Big" Williams and Faucette. Phil Utley, the star quarterback has been sick with malaria for several weeks in Raleigh, but he expects to return as soon as he recovers. With these old men already here it is seen that a strong line is back on the gridiron for practice without a break, a fact most encouraging to every Wake Forest sympathizer.

The football schedule has been given out by Manager Harwood, and the first game is less than two weeks off and will be played here the last Saturday in September with the University College, Richmond. The games arranged with A. & M. at Wake Forest, University at Chapel Hill, and Davidson at Charlotte have caused much interest because of the keen rivalry between these colleges in athletic contests.

The schedule prepared by the manager is as follows:

Sept. 28—University College of Medicine, Richmond at Wake Forest.

Oct. 5—University of South Carolina at Columbia.

Oct. 12—University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Oct. 18—Open.

Oct. 26—Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.

Nov. 2—A. & M. at Wake Forest.

Nov. 16—Probably Galadet at Raleigh.

Nov. 28—Davidson at Charlotte.

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Association the officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Oliver L. Stringfield, Jr., president; R. B. Green, vice president; Randolph Benton, secretary and treasurer. A very appropriate address was delivered at the meeting by Prof. E. W. Timberlake, of the law department, who urged every student to use his energies for the betterment of athletics this year.

Mr. Roland S. Pruett, of Charlotte, was elected manager of the baseball team to succeed Mr. P. A. McLendon, of Wadesboro, who had previously resigned. Mr. T. B. Henry, of Wadesboro, was elected manager of the basketball team to fill the vacancy of Mr. H. F. Faucette, of Raleigh, who did not return to school.

Last night a mass meeting was held by the students in the interest of athletics. The enthusiasm among the students was especially notable. Some of the speakers were: Dr. Charles E. Brewer, who gave a brief history of Wake Forest's achievements in athletics. R. S. Pruett spoke on "College Spirit and then Some." E. P. Yates delivered an appropriate address on "Athletics an essential to an all-round college man." Dr. Hubert Poteat in his usual humorus manner, spoke for a few minutes on "The Lion and the Mouse or Can the Faculty and Athelitcs Dwell Together." Before he had closed his remarks all were convinced that the faculty and athletics did dwell together and would continue to do so. At the close of the meeting, a motion was made and unanimously passed, that the president of the Athletic Association appoint a committee to draw up resolutions, and in said resolutions, which are to be presented to the board of trustees, ask them to allow the sum of $5 to be added to the martriculation fee, which fee is to be used in the interest of athletics. In return for this amount each student is to be given a season ticket to all the games, of both football and baseball, and under no circumstances will the students be asked to contribute to any other amount during the year. By this new system it is hoped to be a double support to athletics, first in a financial way and second the teams will be backed up by a solid phalanx of the student body, and the evils of being in a financial hole and not having the full support of the students, forever abolished.

At last, but not least, the freshman class has organized with the following officers: B. C. Ingrma, president; E. C. Jones, vice president; J. M. Kesler, secretary and treasurer; R. Redwine, historian; H. Sprinkle, prophet; V. H. Harill, poet. This class many not have a Shakespeare or a Tennyson, a Caesar or a Cicero, but it promises to furnish some athletics.

NOTABLE ARMY WEDDING.

Miss Margaret Disosway, of Black Mountain, Weds Capt. McKinley.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 18.—One of the notable weddings in army circles in recent years took place tonight at Black Mountain, near here, when Miss Margaret Disosway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Disosway, of Atlanta and Black Mountain, became the bride of Capt. James Fuller McKinley, 11th Cavalry, U. S. A. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Memminger, of All Saints Episcopal church, Atlanta.

Capt. McKinley is a nephew of the late President McKinley and the bride is a noted belle of Atlanta.

GOVERNOR AT SANFORD.

Chief Executive Makes Fine Impression on Lee County Audience.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Sanford, N. C., Sept. 18.—Governor W. W. Kitchin addressed a large and appreciative audience here today at the Town Hall in advocacy of his nomination to the United States Senate to succeed Hon. F. M. Simmons. The people appear to be pretty evenly divided between Governor Kitchin and Senator Simmons and the campaign in Lee county is waxing warm.

Governor Kitchin was introduced by Mr. Charles H. York, superintendent of the Sanford Cotton Mills, in a pleasant talk of about ten minutes. Mr. Kitchin was in true form, a born orator, he had an audience with him from the beginning. He first spoke in behalf of Democracy, State and National, then he spoke briefly of his own record while in Congress and as Governor. The remainder of his speech was devoted to Senator Simmons' record and in interest of his candidacy for the United States Senate.

The Governor's speech was along the lines of progressive Democracy, setting up strong claims for the support of the progressive Democrats. He said that it was important that the next Senate be composed of progressives. He paid high tribute to Governor Woodrow Wilson, Democratic candidate for President, stating that he has always supported Wilson, that he believed him to be the proper man to represent true Democracy. He said that he was glad that Governor Wilson would not be under obligations to the Money trust; that he would get no help from Wall Street and that he did not expect it; that he would not be under obligation to the bosses, but would go to the Presidential chair unhampered, being placed there by the will of the people.

Governor Kitchin pleaded for true Democracy for the people, true Democracy by the people. He handled the Republican record in that masterful manner for which he is famous. It was a remarkably forceful address and the effect of his arguments will be felt in the coming election. He spoke in that quiet argumentative manner that has made him a great political debater. The audience went away feeling that they had listened to a great preacher and one worthy to be a leader of men.

As the Governor stood before his audience, tall, handsome, dignified, masterful, he had the self possession of the man who knows he is right and spoke with that authority. It was a great speech by a great man and much appreciated by his audience.

"MOONSHINE" GOES ON

Impossible to Break Up Illicit Distilleries, It Is Said

Chicago, Sept. 18.—"It is impossible to wipe out the 'moonshine whiskey' business in the South," said B. S. Howard, of Louisville, Ky., secretary of the National Federation of Internal Revenue Storekeepers and Guagers, at the federation's convention today. Two thousand illicit distilleries were broken up by revenue officers in the South last year. This was twice as many as the number of registered distilleries in the same region, he said.

SCROFULOUS TROUBLES

No truth is more forcibly manifested in physical life than the old saying "like begets like;" for just as the offspring of healthy ancestry are blessed with pure, rich blood insuring good health, so the children of blood-tainted parentage inherit a polluted circulation which fosters a chain of scrofulous troubles. The usual sign of a scrofulous inheritance are swollen glands about the neck, weak eyes, pale, waxy complexions, sores and ulcers and general poor health. These symptoms are most often manifested in early life, though sometimes maturity is reached before the trouble breaks out. Treatment should be commenced at the first indication of Scrofula for it may get beyond control if allowed to run unchecked. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Scrofula. It renovates the circulation and drives out all scrofulous matter and deposits. S. S. S. goes to the bottom of the trouble and removes the cause and cures the disease. Then it supplies the weak, blood with healthful properties. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is absolutely safe remedy for young or old. Thursday, September 19, 1912.

Very few men will be caught rooting for a cheroot.

Some men get "theirs" and then try to get yours.

Politicians are not suspected of putting the "act" in facts.

Everybody's overdoing it by trying to lie out of it when they are caught.

Where is the old-fashioned gentleman whose name for a mollycoddle was "milksop?"

If you have no record of your own sit down on some other fellow's record and keep it from getting away from you.

Men who can tell others all about politics don't even know what to do to borrow a part of their salary from their wives.

The Brunswick (Ga.) News says: "The price of lemons is going up again." High-priced lemons will be the very kind to hand to those who are higher up.

The best thing that can be said about Sunny Jim Sherman's candidacy for Vice President on the Republican ticket, is that he hasn't said enough to insult anybody.

Fred Dreyfuss, a Bull Mooser, writes from Syracuse to the New York World to say that Bull Moosers are all right, but as for the women Moosers "they are excitable, hysterical and thoughtless." Does Fred expect women to be consistent followers of Teddy unless they are permitted to have the fidgets and go into fits?

Democratic leaders ought to be telling the people that they ought to be proud of the record of all Democratic officials. They are doing precisely the contrary. The Democratic party needs new leaders who won't make selfish use of the party. Give us a few broad leaders who can eliminate their own interests from politics and fight for the party instead of for themselves.

Guilt is not corporate. Guilt is personal. It has been personal ever since the trusts were organized and have violated the Sherman act constantly since it was passed. Guilt is both personal and offensive, since all trusts have systematically robbed the people. Roosevelt never put a quietus on any trust and never put any guilty magnate in jail. Taft has never jailed those who have preyed upon the people through trust operations. We fully expected to see all sorts of trust magnates landed in the "cooler" in North Carolina, but so far no trust law with teeth has even snapped at the heels of the guilty wretch. "Gyp, The Blood," "Lefty Louie," Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards were not in it with trust magnates in dodging from those who bust trusts and put stripes on trust magnates.

Freak election bets are coming to the surface. At South Norwalk, Conn., we are told that there is a Miss Katherine Henry, "a pretty high school teacher who is a consistent admirer of Colonel Roosevelt and dotes on Bull Moosers." It is further stated that she has a beau by the name of Lester Wyeth "who has no use for Rooseveltism." They argued Bull Mooseism, third termism and Armageddonism till they got down to the point where the school marm wagered that if Teddy is not elected she will wear low white shoes and white hosiery throughout the Winter, regardless of snow, rain or cold. If Teddy is elected her beau will wear a straw hat all the Winter. We can't understand how a Moosette can be pretty, but even if she is we hope she has inconsistently put her foot in it. In fact she may as well order her white stockings and shoes.

TREACHERY IS DESPICABLE.

The average man hates treachery. The man or the woman who takes pay and betrays one close to them is despised. The most contemptible character in the Bible is Judas Iscariot and we always picture him as a sneak and villain. For a handful of silver the mercenary wretch betrayed Christ whose follower he was. Benedict Arnold, who betrayed his country during the Revolution, is to us the most contemptible character in American history. Nobody loves a man or a woman who "squeals" for the pay there is in it, when fidelity is due to those who are betrayed. The deserter, the coward, the cold-feeter have no friends.

We are glad Miss Maude Iroler, sweetheart of Wesley Edwards, has been freed from the suspicion that for reward she gave her lover away and led the detectives to his hiding place in Des Moines, Ia. She had poor judgment in going there to marry a man who was wanted for murder and is liable to be put to death in the electric chair, but that would be far preferable than to pretend love and marriage only for the opportunity to betray him into the hands of detectives for a sordid reward. It has turned out that there is nothing to it, and it must be admitted that it was not like a woman to prove traitor. Few women are treacherous, but rather they would bare their neck to the axe rather than sell out a man they love.

The press generally agreed that it was unjust to Miss Iroler to make it appear that she had betrayed her lover and made it possible for him to have his life taken by the State of Virginia. Editors generally express gratification that she never proved false, for it would have been a slander on womankind. Men's confidence in the gentle sex would have been shaken. Therefore, it is worth a lot to know that the mountain girl resents the insinuation and imputation that she as good as betrayed her sweetheart with a kiss. This from the Richmond Journal shows how sentiment controls in this matter:

"Governor Mann is quoted as saying that it is not his purpose to tell who will receive the $2,300 reward to be paid for the information leading to the arrest of Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards. Beyond stating that the check will be made payable to the Baldwin-Felts Detective Agency, he declines to go into details. The Governor takes the ground that it would be against public policy to reveal the names of persons by whom information is furnished to the police. In this he is probably right. But, inasmuch as the Baldwin-Felts people have announced that none of the reward will go to them, and, inasmuch as there has been some suspicion that the fugitives were betrayed by Miss Maude Iroler, the sweetheart of Wesley Edwards, it might be well to have some definite utterance along this line. In other words, if Miss Iroler is to get none of the money, what would be the harm in the Governor's announcing the fact? Such a statement from him would relieve the young woman of a suspicion which has certainly put her in an unfavorable light. When one sells even the love of a murderer for gold, one commits a sin that can scarcely command admiration. As we stated yesterday, we hope that the sequel will prove Miss Iroler innocent of any purpose to betray her desperate wooer. Chief W. G. Baldwin has already declared that public opinion has done the girl an injustice, and that it was not her wish to see Wesley Edwards again in the toils of the law. He flatly denies that she knowingly assisted the detectives who were on the trail of the fugitives. And really it begins to look as if the Mount Airy maid, however indiscreet she may have been in going to join Wesley Edwards, has been put in a false position. It is by no means so certain, however, that Miss Iroler's father did not aid the detectives, though his position was decidedly different from that of his daughter. He disapproved of the match and doubtless would have resorted to almost any legitimate means to prevent it. But even in his case, it will look ugly if he accepts any of the reward."

The spies who camp on the trail of men are men. The enemy in the camp is a man. It is the women who are Spartans. It is woman who bears suffering with patience and would undergo torture for a man totally unworthy of her sublime fidelity. Gold is dross compared with a true, faithful woman.

TARDY JUSTICE TO THE FARMER.

It is nothing new for The Star to stand up for the farmers' interests and to share in the work of promoting modern agriculture. We have sung the same song for years, and we have preached the doctrines that the farmers' cause is everybody's cause. We have always helped the farmer in whatever has been done to put 15 cents a pound in his pocket for his cotton. We want to see the farmer get just as much for his work as any other man, and we want to see his family provided with homes, comforts, and education equal to any. The farmer earns it and deserves it.

One reason we like the Democratic party is because it has always been a friend of the farmer. The Republican party has provided special privileges for many classes, but it has left the farmer to shift for himself. It has even discriminated against the farmer in many ways, and even in Taft's reciprocity bill for special interests a square deal was denied to the farmer in the free list trade pact with Canada. In that reciprocity bill the farmers' products were placed on the free list, but a deaf ear was turned to the farmers' free list. Toll was taken out of the farmer but an equal amount was not taken out of those whose implements, machinery and supplies the farmer is compelled to have. However, the farmer seems to be coming into his own, for everybody who feels the pinch of the high cost of living is looking to the farmer for relief.

Of course times like these emphasize the importance of the farmer, for it is seen that the promotion of the cause of agriculture and producers is a good thing. The Democratic party has long seen the need of aiding the farmer and promoting agriculture and it is the pioneer in a proposition to help the farmer by lifting some of his handicaps and aiding him to overthrow the burdens placed upon him by discrimination. Republican banking laws have discriminated against the farmer. He cannot borrow money on land as an asset like other classes whose bonds, stocks, etc., are accepted as collateral for loans. Even where the farmer could borrow money from any source it has cost him two to three times the interest and fees that it has cost other classes of borrowers. If he had to mortgage his land to borrow money he had to pay stiff fees to have his land titles cleared by some attorney. If he pays up and has to borrow money on his land again, the same title examination expense has to be gone over again. The Torrens land title system will relieve the farmer of that burden and make his title an asset upon which he can secure loans at any time. That is nothing but right, and sooner or later the National banking laws ought to be so amended as to make them cease being a discrimination against the farmer.

In order to relieve the farmer and develop the agricultural resources of the country, just simply remove the farmer's handicaps and he will take care of himself. He has done wonderfully well as it is, but the time has come when it is to the interest of the farmers, to the interest of consumers, and to the interest of the Nation to take the yoke off the neck of the farmers. The Democratic party in its Baltimore platform pledges legislation towards that end and it is one of the best planks in the platform. It makes the farmer the "special interest" of Democratic legislation, and The Star is glad to acknowledge that agriculture is one special interest that the Democratic party stands for.

We will be glad enough to see the cost of living reduced but not at the expense of the farmer, but we favor all reforms to benefit agriculture because it is tardy justice to the farmer—simple justice to the mainstay of the country. We want to see the tables turned so the farmer may sit at the head awhile.

TERRIBLE SELF-SACRIFICE

In New York a few weeks ago a man committed suicide so his creditors could get the benefit of his life insurance and not be losers on account of the bankruptcy of a company in which he was the principal. He became responsible for its debts and not being financially able to meet his honest obligations in that respect he sacrificed his own life to provide the money with which to pay his debts. That man had a perverted and false idea of honor. Had he lived and failed to pay his debts he would not have been guilty of any crime. However, his suicide was more than doubly a crime, for it was a crime against himself, a crime against society and public morality, and a crime against the insurance company. He murdered himself to get the money to pay his debts.

It is difficult to see how it would have been a lesser crime if he had killed somebody else to get money to pay his debts. The glaring truth is he committed murder and robbery in the one act of murdering himself. He did worse than rob Peter to pay Paul. He robbed himself of life and he robbed others of money to pay his creditors. In his final desperation he was guilty of more dishonor than if he had even defrauded his creditors. He provided for their payment with blood money. He spilt his own blood to get the money of others to pay off his debts. It was a terrible self-sacrifice. Would a well-balanced man consider that he was performing a deed of honor in settling his debts in any such manner?

At Cleveland, Ohio, last week, Joseph Jackemy took his own life for his son's sake. He feared that he would live long enough to use up his $6,000 estate and thus deprive his son of the money for educational purposes. He often spoke of suicide that he might leave his estate to his son. It was a terrible self sacrifice for his boy. It must be hard for the boy to take the money. The man's act robbed his boy of his father and made him the son of a suicide. He left his $6,000 to the boy but he left his son a stain of suicide that will never be blotted out. No doubt the boy would give all his money to blot out that stain.

Such terrible sacrifices come from false ideas of duty and responsibility. There is no honor in paying a debt with money stolen from another, and no honor in meeting obligations and performing fancied duties by wronging others to square ourselves with the world. There is neither common sense nor philosophy in "robbing Peter to pay Paul." There is neither honor, nor common sense nor philosophy in such terrible sacrifices as those made by the New York man who took his life for his creditors, or by the Cleveland man whose act made his son the beneficiary of self-murder.

General Count Nogi, of Japan, and the Countess Nogi committed suicide to prove their loyalty to the dead Mikado. It was the result of a heathenish standard of fidelity. It is to be hoped that the suicide test will disappear and that the light of reason will vanish false and absurd ideas of responsibility, duty and honor.

In a speech out West the Third Termer declared to his audience that "we can't do everything at once." His audience must have inferred that it will require many terms of Roosevelt to keep the punk afire.

Owing to the apparent coldness of some of the Third Termer's audiences out West, Roosevelt seems to be acting like a man who is ready to assume a guessing attitude instead of aviating in an air of confidence.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Negroes still sell high. Penrose says $3,000,000 was given to buy negro delegates at Chicago.—Farmville Herald.

One never gets tired of looking at pretty girls, and the styles of their wearing apparel have had a great deal to do with seeing more of them than ever this Summer.—Staunton Leader

Mr. Thomas Settle has challenged Mr. Locke Craig to a joint debate. The Democracy of the State are well satisfied that their champion can easily hold his own with his Buncombe county friend, but joint debates are not productive of good feeling, neither do they result in good to either representative.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Eight of the 42 proposed amendments to the Ohio constitution failed of ratificationn. Those defeated were equal suffrage, $50,000,000 good roads bond issue, prohibition of outdoor advertising, regulation of labor injunctions, abolition of the death penalty use of voting machines, appointment of women to certain offices, and the elimination of the word "white" from the constitution. The total vote was below 50 per cent. of normal. After swallowing with apparent relish some of the doses offered them it is surprising that the Ohio voters should balk at these.—Savannah News.

The charges of graft all about may make the pessimistic believe and assert that this is a time of peculiar and exceptional public immorality, and that official life in this country is honeycombed with dishonesty to an abnormal extent. On the contrary, it is the quickening of the public conscence which has brought into the broad light of day what has been going on undisturbed on account of the popular apathy to official wrong-doing. Exposure is the ugliest step in the process of reformation, but it is the most important, as it is the hidden things in which danger is always present and against which there is the least protection.—Baltimore American.

To be sure The State will print letters, or telegrams, advocating votes for women. We'll print 'em gladly and think ourselves lucky to have the chance. There's nothing else to do; the women's movement can't be stopped and the wise, comfortable and convenient course is to chime in with it and join in the chorus. The State will never, no never, be found in an attitude of defiance towards the women of South Carolina for howbeit we are not a candidate for Governor or railroad commissioner, we are invariably tempted to begin all editorial articles, short or long, with the usual tribute to the ladies. So, when the women would have words to say in The State, surely The State yields to them.—Columbia State.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 18.—Greensboro's progressive citizens are rejoiced today over the outcome of the bond election held in the two townships constituting Greensboro yesterday when the people by a majority of 82 voted in favor of issuing $200,000 in bonds in support of or in aid of the Greensboro, Northern & Atlantic Railway, a proposed road to extend from this place to a connection with the Seaboard Air Line. The friends of the proposed road declare that there is no doubt but the road will be built and that Greensboro will at no far distant date be given railroad competition and therefore relief from excessive freight rates alleged to be charged this place and other non-competitive towns by the Southern Railway. The fight for and against the bonds was warm. The great interests of the Cones at White Oak, Proximity and Revolution was centered against the issuing of bonds and it is said that views of Caesar Cone and other members of the family were shared in by their many employes who voted almost solidly against the bond issue. The vote in the mill village precinct was, however, offset by the vote of Greensboro citizens proper and the bonds were legally voted and it is now up to the promoters of the proposed road to carry out their part of the programme and give the competing line of railways.

Judge W. H. Whedbee, presiding over the criminal term of Superior Court here, became vexed at a verdict rendered by the jury in a case involving the theft or breaking into a store in this vicinity recently, and severely arraigned the jury. The jury was called upon to pass on the guilt or innocence of three men; the evidence to the judge and spectators, at least, was conclusive that the men were guilty. The jury viewed the case differently and returned a verdict of acquittal. Judge Whedbee at once declared that there had been a miscarriage of justice; that to his mind the defendants were guilty and that he wanted juries in his court to pass upon the evidence and not be actuated by prejudices or sentiments.

LOCAL SELF GOVERNMENT.

Nominee of Progressive Party Outlines Position on Local Option.

Editor Star:—The State Progressive party platform contains this declaration:

"Local self-government is a fundamental policy of our political institutions. The right of a State to legislate, either under its general or police powers, in all matters of State concern, is equally fundamental. Each should be preserved in its integrity without the subordination of the one to the other. The Legislature should enact legislation of local character for the representative of a county elected upon a written platform demanding such legislation for his county. Provided, this section does not apply to the local option question.

I stand squarely on this declaration. I regret that another political party declares in its platform for local option. The liquor question was settled by the people of this State by an overwhelming majority. I think it should remain settled. I do not think it ought to have been injected into this campaign. There are issues of more moment to the people of the State to be discussed. I believe in the principle of local self government. I do not believe that local option comes within that principle. The test of whether or not a subject of legislation comes within the principle of local self government depends entirely upon whether a locality can administer, regulate or restrain the subject within its own territory. Experience teaches us that no community can permit the sale of liquor and restrain its effects to its own locality. This effect invariably passes beyond the local territory, where it is sold, into adjoining localities; and, therefore, the subject matter becomes peculiarly one for State regulation. At any rate, this is the law of the land, State and National, and in the exercise of its sovereignty, the State has prohibited its sale.

Nobody expected the prohibition law to enforce itself. It does not act automatically. The prohibition law, like the 16-inch gun, is an effective instrument only when there is a man behind it. The man behind the gun is as important as the gun itself in effecting its purpose. The officer behind the prohibition law is as necessary as the law itself. I believe public sentiment is behind the law in this State. Even men who did not vote for it are willing that it shall be fairly tested by time and experience before it shall be repealed. Everybody admits that the use of alcohol is an evil. Even the man who advocates its sale admits the necessity of stringent regulations. The State, after attempts at regulation, has decided upon prohibition. I think respect for the will of the majority of the people of the State should forbid the Legislature to pass any law that will submit the question of local option to any one community or communities in this State until by vote of a majority of the people of the State the present law shall be amended. This is what our declaration means, in my opinion, and with this statement of my position, which I make so that I may be clearly understood, I propose to devote my time and energy to the discussion of far more important issues in this campaign and to an explanation of the principles for which the Progressive party, State and National, stands. IREDELL MEARES.

SIMMONS AT NEWTON

Speaks to Enthusiastic Audience of Catawba Voters

Newton, Sept. 17.—Last night Senator Simmons opened the campaign in Catawba with one of the greatest speeches ever heard in the county. The Court House was packed to its full capacity with voters from every precinct of the county. It was an enthusiastic Simmons' crowd and it cheered the Senator as he reviewed the work of the Democratic Congress and explained the planks of the Democratic platform especially those defining the programme for the material development of the South.

His defense of his votes in Congress on lumber reciprocity and others, on which he has been criticized, was interrupted by frequent and prolonged cheers by the audience.

WOMEN, AVOID OPERATIONS

Many Unsuccessful — And Worse Suffering Often Follows. Mrs. Rock's Case A Warning.

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will show how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when often it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for several months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has restored the health of thousands of suffering women. Why don't you try it?

CONTRACT FOR INCINERATOR

Awarded by Council Yesterday Morning to the Decaire Incinerator Co.—City Four-fifths and County One-fifth

It is now definitely settled that the City of Wilmington and New Hanover county are to have an incinerator for the destruction of carrion and garbage. The contract for a plant of 40-ton capacity was awarded yesterday to the Decaire Incinerator Co., of Minneapolis, for $34,000, by the City Council at the regular meeting yesterday morning by a vote of four to one, Councilman P. Q. Moore casting the lone vote against the purchase of the plant, his objection being based on the ground that it will not destroy refuse, which he said was infinitely more objectionable than garbage or carrion.

The incinerator proposition was the first thing taken up and it consumed the greater portion of the session. Marsden Bellamy, Esq., county attorney, said he was present at the invitation of City Attorney Herbert McClammy to confer on the incinerator matter. He said that he did not know for certain the views of the Commissioners as to what part of the county would be expected to use the incinerator, he having noticed in the papers that Councilman Tiencken had raised the question of whether Delgado and Wrightsville Beach would have the right to use the plant. Mr. Bellamy considered it impracticable to haul garbage all the way from Wrightsville Beach for the sake of burning it in an incinerator when the Atlantic ocean was so nearby, but of course, Carolina Heights, Carolina Place and Delgado, which are not incorporated towns, would, he thought, have the right to use the plant. In fact he understood that it was for this reason that the county had agreed to pay one-fifth of the cost of installation and maintenance of an incinerator.

Mr. Bellamy remarked incidentally that he did not think the county would agree to pay any more in cash proportionately than the city will pay. That is, if the city is to pay only $10,000 cash and balance to be deferred payments then the county would hardly expect to pay more than $2,000 cash and balance on same terms granted the city.

Councilman Tiencken then raised the question that in years to come there might be a number of incorporated towns in the county and he wanted to know whether they would be permitted to use the incinerator on account of the county's part in the plant. City Attorney McClammy said that no question of this character could arise as when a place is incorporated it severs itself from the county in a way. He said further that if it was anticipated that the entire county is to be incorporated into towns then the county should be absolved from payment of any portion of the cost of the plant.

Councilman P. Q. Moore, who had remained silent on the proposition up to this point, said that he agreed thoroughly with Councilman Tiencken in his position. He said a plant to destroy refuse is what is needed above everything else and declared that the present method of disposing of the contents of the sanitary cans is offensively and objectionable to the people of the southern part of the city where a disposal basin has been established on the edge of the river. He said that the people living in that section are demanding some relief and ought to have it. When some better method of destroying the contents of the sanitary cans has been provided then Council could take up the proposition of an incinerator for garbage and carrion, he said.

Councilman B. C. Moore said that the people in the southern part of the city had nothing to complain of, that there was no obnoxious odor emanating from the cans.

The next question was that of financing the proposition. Councilman Tiencken asked City Attorney McClammy if the Council would have the right to borrow money for a period greater than the term of office of the members of the body. The city attorney replied by saying that a debt against the city could be contracted in matters of this kind. He said that the only question for Council to determine was: Whether the incinerator is for the health of the community; whether it is necessary for the preservation of the health of the community. He said that if the Council so found, then the debt would be binding.

Mayor Smith remarked that he was a member of the County Board of Health, which made the ruling that no refuse, garbage or carrion shall be buried underneath the soil of the county after October 1st, and therefore he would likely be excused from doing time in the pen or on the roads with other members of Council if the health regulation was not obeyed.

A resolution was then introduced and adopted by a vote of four to one awarding the contract to the Decaire Incinerator Company for a 40-ton capacity incinerator for $34,000, subject to details to be arranged by the city attorney. Councilman P. Q. Moore cast the only vote against the resolution.

Another resolution was offered and adopted providing for the sale of the property at the southwest corner of Fourth and Princess streets and the proceeds or a portion thereof be devoted to the purchase of an incinerator. The property is that upon which one of the fire stations is located.

The matter of awarding the contracts for plumbing and masonry work in connection with the proposed extensive improvements of the Front street market house was postponed until next meeting. Bids were received and opened some days ago and Mr. J. F. Gause, Jr., the architect, was present to make recommendations to whom the contracts should go, but Council was not ready to act for it is desired to ascertain what increased rent the market men will be willing to pay by reason of the improvements, and, too, bids for carpentry work are not to be received until the latter part of the week and Council prefers to award the contract for all the work at the same time. In reply to a request from Councilman Tiencken the city attorney gave it as his opinion that Council has a right to lease the market house spaces for a period of five years. He will later submit his opinion in writing. Some of the market men desire a lease of at least five years so as to be justified in making extensive improvements of their spaces. Mr. J. J. Hopkins, of Hopkins & Davis, was present at the meeting yesterday. The market house spaces are to be rented at public auction Friday of this week and it is understood that the rent will be based upon the contemplated improvements.

City Attorney McClammy was asked what action had been taken against those who owe the city money advanced for sidewalk improvements. He replied that he expected to bring suit against them Friday of this week.

Councilman B. C. Moore called the attention of Councilman P. Q. Moore to the condition of the bridge over the A. C. L. tracks on Fourth street. The latter admitted the bridge needed repairs, but stated that his department did not have the money.

Upon the suggestion of Councilman Perdew it was decided to hold a conference at 9:30 o'clock this morning for the purpose of discussing and probably fixing the sewerage rate to be charged when the city takes over the plant and to discuss other matters incident to the operation of the system.

Mr. J. H. Taylor, Jr., reminded Council that some weeks ago the city engineer was instructed to secure estimates of the cost of the improvement of Orange street, between Sixth and Eighth, and stated that no report had as yet been made. Councilman P. Q. Moore said that the estimates had been secured, but before making a report he desired to bring the matter before the Council in conference.

Mr. R. A. Parsley, for whom a statement of the expenditures of the bond issue fund was made some days ago, was present and commented upon the statement. For fear that there might be some misunderstanding as to what he had to say on the matter he had reduced his remarks to writing. After reading his statement Mr. Parsley said that the whole point in the matter was whether the $37,000 due the Tidewater Power Co., is to be paid on the loan secured by the city or is to be used for paying the contractors. Councilman Tiencken said that the contractors had already been paid. Mr. Parsley replied that if that was so then he must have misunderstood the city clerk and treasurer. It was suggested that Mr. Parsley take the matter up with the financial department. Mr. Parsley said that he would be glad to see Councilman Tiencken at his convenience. Councilman Tiencken said he did not think he could convince Mr. Parsley that the statement was correct as he had already consumed considerable time in discussing the matter with him. Mr. Parsley remarked that he had been to see Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, several times to discuss the matter and that he had not received him very cordially.

The prepared statement of Mr. Parsley follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 16, 1912.

"To the City Council: I am informed from the newspapers only that the statement dated September 2nd and announced at your meeting of the 11th inst., is in response to my informal request of July 24th, for a statement of the street improvement fund, etc.

"Accepting this to be true, I have carefully examined the statement prepared by the city treasurer and am gratified to find that it shows a small credit balance of $2,998.51. Assuming the treasurer's items to be correct, I accept the statement as correct in form and otherwise.

"As to the addenda or foot note, indicating a credit balance of $19,265.96, it seems that the availability of this balance depends entirely upon whether or not the $37,267.45 estimated to be due by the Tidewater Power Company is made available for the street improvement fund. My understanding of the resolution passed at your meeting of July 31st, authorizing your financial department to borrow $40,000, was that it morally hypothecated the Tidewater Power Company account against the loan. Of course, if this loan is paid with other funds or the bank surrenders its specific moral collateral, the Tidewater Power Company account becomes available and you will undoubtedly have a credit balance of $19,265.96, when the Tidewater Power Company pays its account. Otherwise, if you still owe contractors $21,000, as indicated in the foot note, you will necessarily have to provide $17,001.49 from some other source.

"If the $40,000 loan is finally paid with money which the taxpayers must specially provide for the purpose, then I presume it is up to them to indicate the degree of satisfaction with which they will receive the tax levy, or authorize the bond issue, ultimately necessary to discharge this seemingly unnecessary loan.

"I desire to thank you for the statement and to express regret that your failure to cause proper books to be kept for the street improvement fund should have heaped upon the treasurer a large amount of work that would otherwise have been done from time to time as the street work progressed, and would have given to the city a far more satisfactory record than that is even now available."

WITNESSES FOR HOLLY.

Subpoenas Issued for Forty-Fve Witnesses for the Defendant.

Messrs. William J. Bellamy and C. D. Weeks, of the Wilmington bar, attorneys for J. C. Holly, who is to be tried in Pender Superior Court next week for the murder of his ward, young Edward Cromwell, who lost his life in the Rock Springs hotel fire in this city some months ago, yesterday issued subpoenas for 45 witnesses who are being summoned from the sheriff's office to go to Burgaw next Tuesday and testify for the defendant. The venire of 400 from which to select the jury will appear Saturday and it is expected that it will take all day to select the 12 men who will pass upon the guilt or innocence of the prisoner and as the State will begin first with its testimony, it is hardly expected that the defendant's witnesses will be wanted before Tuesday. It is stated that the jury box in Pender was entirely exhausted in summoning the venire of a little over 400 and that the sheriff and his deputies have been busy all the week in the county, getting service on the talesmen. The cost of the trial of this case in Pender is expected to be quite large and will, of course, have to be borne by New Hanover.

DEFENDANT HEAVILY FINED

Manager of Queen Theatre Ordered to Pay Fine of $200.—Place Must be Kept Orderly—To Superior Court.

Judgment was pronounced by Substitute Recorder George Harriss yesterday morning in the case against Mr. M. H. Whipple, charged with nuisance in that he conducted a theatre at Eighth and Queen streets that was disorderly, evidence in which was heard at an all-day session of the Recorder's court Tuesday. The court announced that the defendant, who had been found guilty by a jury of 12 men, could be required to pay a fine of $250 and costs and abate the nuisance complained. Counsel for the defendant anncunced that an appeal to Superior Court would be taken.

The defendant was required to give $500 justified bond for his appearance at the next term of Superior Court, and this was furnished. The Acting Recorder notified the defendant that he would be expected to maintain strictly an orderly place or he would be re-arrested and again tried. Through his attorneys he assured the court that it was his purpose to run an orderly place and to this end he would use his best efforts. The defendant was represented by A. G. Ricaud and Henry Heyer, Esqs., and Hon. John D. Bellamy, while assisting the prosecution were Walter P. Gafford and Woodus Kellum, Esqs.

Recorder Furlong was in court yesterday, but as there were no cases for trial the session was of short duration. On account of the absence of Attorney W. P. Gafford Recorder Furlong did not announce his judgment in the case against W. L. Taylor, a young white man charged with obtaining ing money under false pretense. The judgment will be rendered Saturday.

CONDITIONS ARE FAVORABLE.

Cattle Tick Easily Eradicated Where Stock Law Obtains.

Dr. Russell Bellamy was instrumental in getting Dr. Cooper Curtice, of the Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, to visit New Hanover county to make an investigation with regard to the cattle tick which the government experts are making a special effort to eradicate. Yesterday Dr. Bellamy received from the acting secretary of the Department of Agriculture as follows:

"Washington, D. C., Sept. 13, 1912.

"Dr. Russell Bellamy, Director Walnut Hill Surgical Research Laboratory, 10 North Third street, Wilmington, N. C.

"Sir:—Referring to your letter of the 10th instant regarding the eradication from New Hanover county, N. C., of ticks which infest cattle and transmit disease, it would appear from the recent report of the investigation submitted by Dr. Cooper Curtice that the conditions in New Hanover county for tick eradication are favorable inasmuch as the county is under stock law and infection not general. Dr. Thomas M. Owen, Norfolk, Va., who has immediate supervisiol for the department of the eradication of ticks in North Carolina and Virginia, has therefore been informed that he may proceed to co-operate with the State authorities in the eradication of ticks from New Hanover county, provided this can be done without increasing his present force.

"Very respectfully,

"W. W. HAYS,

"Acting Secretary."

THE A. W. PATE COMPANY

Live Real Estate Firm Seek Larger Quarters for Its Office

The continued growth of the A. W. Pate Company, one of the livest and most progressive real estate agencies in the city, has made it necessary for the firm to seek larger quarters and accordingly the large and well-situated store room at the southeast corner of Second and Princess streets has been leased and it is now being improved and especially fitted up for the real estate firm, which will occupy it after October 1st. This is only two doors west of the present office of the company, which is now doing business at 205 Princess street. The company will have among the handsomest offices in the city and will be entirely in keeping with their large and ever-increasing business. The A. W. Pate Company is one of Wilmington's leading real estate firms and has recently broadened out by adding one or two good men to its staff of salesmen. In its new quarters the company will doubtless do a larger business than in the past.

The office at No. 204 Princess street that will be vacated by the A. W. Pate Company will be occupied after October 1st by Justice J. C. King, one of Wilmington's leading magistrates. He has been a magistrate only a short time, but already a large portion of the business goes to him and when he gets well established in his new office he will doubtless get even more. Mr. King has read law for some time and is well versed in the law.

LETTERS TO COMPLAINANTS.

Telephone Committee Says It Must Have Specific Complaints.

Setting forth the fact that the committee must have specific complaints upon which to act in investigating the telephone service, the chairman of the postoffice, telephone and telegraph committee, of the Chamber of Commerce, has mailed the following letter to persons who have made only general complaint:

"Dear Sir:—At a recent meeting of the postoffice, telegraph and telephone committee of the Chamber of Commerce, to re-open the investigation into the local telephone service the complaints were not sufficiently tangible to take any action and the committee adjourned to await specific complaints.

"The matter was referred to the committee from the general meeting of the Chamber. Please address your complaint in writing to the chairman or otherwise state your intention of appearing before the committee at their next meeting.

"Respectfully,

GREAT DREAM FOR SOUTHPORT

Col. Robt. Stride, of Kernersville, Moves to Town at Mouth of Cape Fear—Plans Hotel and Sanitarium.

Col. Robt. Stride, who has lived at Kernersville, Forsyth county, for a number of years and is well known throughout the Piedmont section of the State, recently removed to Southport, where he will make his home in the future. Col. Stride is nothing if not a booster and he has already become acclimated to his new surroundings and has begun to sing the praises of Southport far and wide. Yesterday's Winston-Salem Journal contained the following of interest here:

"A mammoth hotel which shall be a resort for sportsmen and all other people in Winter and Summer alike, a big sanitarium for the care of sick children and a town of 10,000 inhabitants, is the great dream for Southport of Col. Robert Stride, a popular and well known citizen of Kernersville. And not only does he possess this dream, but he has set his hand already to mold the shadows of it into the sinews of realities. He is now undertaking the task of forming a corporation for the purpose of establishing this hotel.

"As a first step towards the consummation of the venture, Col. Stride has had printed several hundred—or perhaps thousands—of pamphlets setting forth the advantages of Southport, and calling upon those who wish to invest their money wisely and well to join him in the establishing of the great hotel and sanitarium. Scores of these pamphlets have been distributed in Winston-Salem. Col. Stride will move from Kernersville to Southport the last of November and after that time stay on the scene to help carry out his plans.

"Col. Stride's appeal to the sportsmen to join him in his venture is particularly interesting. Here is what he says to them in his pamphlet:

"'Brunswick county and Southport in particular, is the mecca for the hunter and fisherman. Here is a county which has not been invaded by "the game hog" and where a gentleman can stroll out and bag his wild turkey, deer and quail; and row out and get a boatload of ducks, geese, snipe, etc., and not have to freeze to death.

"'Right here is the most perfect climate for Winter hunting. Foxes abound and rabbits and squirrels feed out of your hands (this latter is a figure of speech.)

"'I am going to locate here, and solicit your aid in forming a club, erecting comfortable quarters, bring hunters together, and take care of them.

"'The fishing and boating cannot be excelled. Launch trips can be had for 50 miles in smooth waters. Make this place your Winter hunting resort.

"'It is my sincere hope that the sporting element will respond to my call to locate here. I appeal more particularly to them for hunting, fishing and boating are my present occupation, and have been for several years, and entertaining hunting parties. But at the same time I am competent to take charge and carry through to a successful issue any business proposition that may be intrusted to my care in connection with my project, particularly the hotel proposition.'

"Regarding the location and advantages of Southport, Col. Stride has the following eulogy in his pamphlet:

"'Southport, North Carolina, formerly called Smithville, and so named after Governor Benjamin Smith (aide-de-camp of Washington) in 1792 is located at the mouth of the Cape Fear river, 25 miles below Wilmington, and two miles from the ocean.

"'It has an ideal location on the map, for no city on the whole Atlantic coast is so well placed for the handling of a world-wide commerce. It lies where rail, river and ocean meet.

"'It can reach out for every ship that passes up and down the coast, whether coastwise or trans-atlantic commerce. It is the largest and safest port. It is the harbor to which every disabled ship desires to be towed. It is the nearest big port to the Panama canal. It is the port the big railroad systems have their eyes upon, that I predict that in five years Southport will be recognized as an important outlet for the commerce of the United States. World-wide forces are working to make this prophecy a reality'."

STANLEY SERVING TIME.

Makes Model Prisoner on New Hanover Roads—Pardon Pending.

D. N. Stanley, white, who was sentenced to a term of 12 months at the recent term of Superior Court for a violation of his nolo contendere agreement with the court not to again sell liquor, and who took an appeal to the Supreme Court, has withdrawn his appeal through his attorney, William J. Bellamy, Esq., and for the past ten days or more has been serving his time on the county roads, pending an application for pardon which has been filed with the Governor by Attorney Bellamy. Stanley, it is said, is making a model prisoner, and this will be urged upon the Governor as one of the reasons for his pardon. The application for the pardon is being vigorously pushed by Mr. Bellamy on the ground that Stanley is now thoroughly penitent and that he has already been sufficiently humiliated. It is stated that in order to prosecute his application for a pardon, Stanley had to withdraw his appeal as the Governor refused to interfere as long as the case was in the hands of the court. The prisoner is very hopeful of receiving executive clemency.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

Annie Rollins, Colored, Nabbed Yesterday by County Officers.

County officers made an important arrest yesterday afternoon when they took into custody Annie Rollins, colored, on a capias from Superior Court, where she is wanted to answer a charge of violating the prohibition law. The woman has been wanted ever since the last term of Superior Court and it is not her fault that another court did not come and go with her still untaken. Word was received at the sheriff's office yesterday morning that she was in the southern part of the city and at noon Sheriff Cowan and Deputy Sheriffs Kelly and Davis went in search of her. The officers went to the home of her mother, near corner Second and Marsteller streets, where it is said they were told the woman had not been seen in some weeks. There were several suspicious circumstancs, however, and the officers continued to search about the neighborhood. Presently she was seen running from a house to the store of a combination house and store. Here all trace of her apparently ended. The store was closed and locked. Several negroes told the officers that the place was unoccupied and that they did not know anything about the key. Believing the woman to be in the store the officers pried open the door. They found the object of their search couched down behind a counter. She was brought forth and taken to the county jail.

A few months ago the woman and her husband, John Rollins, were arrested on a charge of selling whiskey to boys. Both were convicted and sentenced to 12 months each, the woman to the farm and the man to the roads. The man went on to the roads and is now doing time, but the woman took an appeal to Superior Court, giving $300 bond for her appearance She failed to appear and her bond was declared forfeited. Not until yesterday were the officers able to get any trace of her.

SUNDAY MAIL LAW.

Further Modification by Postoffice Department is Issued.

Patrons of postoffices of the first and second class will read with interest, if correct, the information contained in yesterday's Norfolk Virginian-Pilot that the "No-Sunday Mail Law" that was sneaked through the closing hours of the last Congress has been still further modified, effective on next Sunday, the 22nd. The Norfolk paper says:

"So much complaint has been made all over the country by postoffice box holders at not being able to obtain their mail on Sundays, as a result of the bill passed by the last Congress that the Postoffice Department has issued a ruling modifying the former one. In the local postoffice as in all others, mail will be distributed in all boxes on Sunday as formerly. This will go into effect next Sunday, September 22nd.

"In addition Postmaster Wright has arranged to have all mails arriving after midday on Sunday distributed immediately after midnight, enabling box holders to obtain their mail as early as 3 or 4 o'clock Monday morning and in ample time to make early shipments."

CAPT CHISWELL TO COMMAND

Revenue Cutter Rush Retired; Goes On The Unalga

The following from yesterday's Baltimore Sun will be read with interest locally where Capt. B. M. Chiswell is most pleasantly remembered as former lieutenant and executive officer of the revenue cutter Algonquin:

"Orders were received from Washington yesterday by the commander of the revenue cutter Unalga for that vessel to proceed from Baltimore to Newport News for some minor construction work. This work will be done preparatory to the starting of the Unalga on her voyage to her post at Juneau, Alaska.

"The Unalga will steam out of Hampton Roads on her 22,000-mile journey at the end of this week. Although the voyage around Cape Horn is much shorter, the route of the Suez Canal will be taken. This route was selected because by it the cost of coal will be materially less.

"Apropos of the sailing of the Unalga, the veteran Revenue Cutter Rush was ordered retired from duty yesterday and will be offered for sale. The Rush has patrolled the Bering Sea for years in search of illegal sealers. The vessel was built in 1874 and rebuilt in 1885. She is a wooden ship of 700 tons. Captain Chiswell and the crew of the Rush will be transferred to the Unalga when that cutter arrives at Juneau. Captain Crisp will take the ship on her voyage around the world to her new post."

EXCURSION REACHES CITY.

Visitors From Spartanburg, S. C., and Points This Side Arrive.

An excursion train of six coaches over the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio and the Seaboard Air Line railways reached the city this morning at an early hour, bringing about 250 persons, it is stated, from Spartanburg, S. C. and points this side. The visitors will remain two days and nights in the city and at the beach, returning on Friday. Special cars of the Tidewater Power Co., were at the station to meet the visitors and convey those who desired to go immediately to the beach. The train was made up in part of Pullmans and a few of the passengers remained on board until later this morning. This is perhaps the last excursion of the season. The Oceanic Hotel is still open on the beach and it is expected that many of the visitors went directly there.

Found Bottle With Card

A green bottle containing a visiting card with a message for some unknown person was found on the shore a few feet above low water mark at Wrightsville Beach yesterday morning by Capt. Hart, a fisherman. Engraved on the card was the name: "Thomas G. O'Neill, with W. R. Grace & Co., New York." This had been erased with pencil. There was written with a pencil on this side of the card. "S. S. Mohawk, Aug. 24th, 1912, Frying Pan Shoals. 1250 Tompkinsville." Just below the engraved name on the card was written, "Greylock Hall, Bayswater." On the reverse side of the card was written: "S. S. Mohawk, Aug. 24th, 1912, Frying Pan Shoals. Dear Noaks: Please give bearer parcel on end of my desk. S. G.."

TO PROTECT U. S. MONEY

Treasury Department Orders 50 of Latest Type of Revolvers

Washington, Sept. 18.—Any burglar with the temerity to visit the Treasury of the United States will risk a fusillade from modern firearms. Sherman Allen, acting Secretary of the Treasury, today ordered from the Secretary of War 50 of the latest type of revolvers with which to arm the watchmen of Uncle Sam's millions. Their old revolvers will be discarded.

With steel-ribbed vaults, a delicate system of burglar alarms, which in case of trouble would summon half the police in Washington, armed watchmen and the soldiers of the regular army at Fort Myer, Va., only a couple of miles away, Mr. Allen believes that the government's wealth is safe from thieves.

SANGUINARY ENGAGEMENT.

Turks and Italians Suffer Great Losses in Battle.

Rome, Sept. 18.—The most sanguinary engagement of the war in Tripoli was fought yesterday. The Italians northeast of Bengazi. The Italians lost 61 and 113 wounded. The Turks and Arabs left more than 800 dead on the field. Forty-one prisoners, including an Arab chief, fell into the hands of the Italians.

The battle opened at daybreak when a force of Turks and Arabs surprised and attacked the Italian lines. The fight raged for four hours, but the superior Italian artillery supplemented by brilliant bayonet charges, won the day and the Musselmen fled in disorder.

Gen. Reisolo, commander of the Italian army in Tripoli, in his report to the War Department, estimates that the Turks and Arabs must have lost 1,000 men killed, including those who were carried off, and that more than 1,000 others were wounded.

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 18.—The severe drouth, which had prevailed in the major portion of central Virginia for many weeks, was broken today by several splendid rains, in which the precipitation aggregated 1.50 inches.

Ideal weather for dancing tonight at Lumina. **

..Theatrical..

Tonight the Academy will offer the annual appearance of the Al. G. Field's Greater Minstrels and, as usual, it is going to be one of the big events of the season. The minstrels will be seen on parade today, with a concert by the brilliant gold band, and the monster performance of modern minstrelsy will follow tonight. Seats went on sale at Plummer's yesterday and is already large. The scale goes but to $1, save for box seats, which are $1.50.

"Minstrelsy Past and Present" is the title of the opening spectacle of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels. Around this theme Mr. Field has built an interesting plot, and instead of the semi-circle of comedians and singers, the programme is given on the lawn and veranda of a hotel at Ormond Beach, Florida. With the selection of this tropical scene on the eve of the great automobile races, every opportunity afforded for comedy, song and electrical effects has been grasped. The flow of story and feast of song is enhanced by the playing fountains, tumbling waterfalls and the rolling Atlantic itself as well as the tropical vendure and the ingenious illumination of the hotel, veranda, Summer houses and pagolas.

"All Hallowe'en" or "Lish Murn's Dream" is the most pretentious dancing display that minstrelsy has ever seen. The spectacle tells the story of an old negro who has looked upon the wine while it was red, and a series of scenic displays and electrical effects takes the spectator with the aged Ethiopian to Dreamland. Goblin Dell and Hades are two of the scenes that are most brilliant and radiant in color and effect.

"The Opening of the Panama Canal" with a public celebration, the first boat passing through and the eruption of a volcano is the theme for a historical and patriotic spectacle included in a performance that is considered the best Al. G. Field has offered during the twenty-seven years he has toured the country.

Every singer, dancer and comedian in Minstrelsy's Hall of Fame is included in the personnel of the gigantic company, and, headed by Al. G. Field himself, theatre-goers are promised the real treat of the season when the minstrels appear tonight.

At the Bijou.

For some time before the awful Titanic disaster, people felt keen interest in the working and nature in general of the large ocean liners that rush over the water, affording, along with speed, the most luxuriant of comforts. There has hardly been a person, unfamiliar with vessels of this type, but what longed to know all about them. Today the popular Bijou, the amusement spot that does things, will offer this chance. It will take the onlookers aboard the handsome "Kaiser Wilhelm the Second" and then on a voyage. The workings of this monster ship and every appointment will be vividly shown, so as not only to interest, but to impress itself upon the minds. Just how the ship is handled in a storm, with all the bulkheads closed, will also be shown. It will prove a great lesson, a current event lesson, it might well be added.

This is only one of the many superb things at the cozy, up-to-date Bijou today. Another great star photoplay will be offered in "The $2,500". It is the latest in the fun line, and it is a corker for mirth. It is merry and novel, and should not be missed.

One of the prettiest, sweetest films ever created will also be a topliner today. It will be "The Party Dress" telling a tale of how the fashion of the grandmother rolled around to the present and showing the grand-daughter wearing one of the old quaint dresses. It is dear for memory and fascinating in theme.

Of course, the admission figure at the Bijou is but 5 cents, afternoon or night, and it will never be raised. The same whopping big show, including three reels of films, is given in the afternoon as presented at night.

The Grand Proving Popular.

The Grand Theatre is proving the most popular place in town since its grand Fall opening with complete orchestra, singer and effects for the pictures. The orchestra discourses sweet music at each performance and Mr. Chick, the balladist, is proving his title to one of the premier artists of the vaudeville circuit. Then, too, the Grand is conducted along up-to-date and modern lines and the patron feels a security and a pleasure when in attendance upon any of the performances.

Mr. Chick will sing for today a beautiful illustrated ballad, "Take Me in Your Arms Again." This song is the hit of New York, one of Chas. K. Harris' latest and it should be heard by those with a penchant for whistleable melodies and pretty sentiment. The big feature in the pictures today will be a Pathe Western story, "The Hand of Destiny." Senora Martinez, while out for a canter, is thrown from her horse and her beauty is marred for life. Her misfortune chills the ardor of her husband who falls in love with another and the wife is threatened with desertion. But there is retribution in history and while out walking with the Senorita one day a blast of dynamite blinds the husband for life and he turns to his first love in his affliction.

The other feature for today is "The New Church Organ," the first presentation of an Essanay, a fine dramatic subject replete with the deepest heart interest. The passing of two lovers through the fires of misfortune before united in the light of happy years is told graphically and sweetly.

In addition to these two there is still a third and everybody will be pleased, the management is quite sure.

BANKERS TO LAUNDER MONEY

West to Install Washing Machines, Says Assistant Secretary

Washington, Sept. 18.—Robert Q. Bailey, assistant secretary of the treasury, has returned to Washington from an extended trip in the Central west and South with the prediction that banks and department stores the country over would undoubtedly adopt the government's money washing machine. The result would be, he said, that the currency of the United States would be kept in better condition than ever before.

"I found bankers intensely interested in the innovation and distictly favorable to washed money," declared Mr. Bailey. "A banker in Omaha, for instance, said he intended to install a machine. I believe his example will be followed in practically all cities other than subtreasury cities."

Mr. Bailey made arrangements for installing laundry machines in the subtreasuries of Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis and New Orleans. The government laundries will be in full operation by January 1st.

Twelve machines are now being manufactured. Four will be sent to New York, two to Chicago and one each to Cincinnati, New Orleans, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston.

COTTON FIRM AND HIGHER

Buying Inspired by Apprehensions of Low Temperatures in Western Belt Caused Gain—Close Was 19 Points Up.

New York, Sept. 18.—The cotton market was firm and higher today on buying, which appeared to be largely inspired by apprehensions of low temperatures in the Western belt, and closed steady at a net advance of from 10 to 19 points.

The opening was steady, at an advance of 7 to 12 points, on covering by sellers of yesterday's market, who appeared to be rendered nervous by relative firmness in Liverpool and reports of a continued good trade demand in the English market.

There was quite a lot of cotton for sale at the initial advance and prices eased off 6 to 7 points from the best, after the call. But with frost reported north of the belt, and with temperatures this morning as low as 50 degrees at some stations in the Western cotton States, the selling was not aggressive and as soon as the Western belt forecast for colder weather tonight was published, the market developed renewed strength. The buying on frost apprehensions was stimulated by numerous unfavorable private crop reports, while some of the Southern hedge selling here was less active than yesterday. Realizing by early buyers caused slight recessions from time to time, but no weakness developed, and the market during the early afternoon sold about 19 to 22 points net higher. Subsequent fluctuations were more or less irregular and demand was less active late in the day, but the apprehension over weather conditions continued to restrict offerings, and the close was within 3 or 4 points of the best.

Receipts, 47,133 bales, against 21,613 last week and 54,319 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston, 26,023, against 27,599 lats year; at New Orleans, 3,678, against 2,143 last year, and at Houston, 22,753, against 20,896 last year.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 190; do. gulf, 1.215; sales, 366 bales.

MONEY STRINGENCY POSSIBLE

Financial Community Interested in Visit of Treasury Officials Who Consulted With Bankers About Shortage.

New York, Sept. 18.—The financial community was rather more interested today in the visit to this city of a representative of the Treasury Department than in the movement of stocks. It is understood that the treasury officials consulted with banking interests regarding a possible money stringency, for the purpose of laying the exact facts before Secretary MacVeagh.

Our banks suffered a further loss of cash, and call money, which opened at 5 per cent., hovered around that point for the greater part of the day. Time rates were unchanged from yesterday, but the supply was decidedly more scanty. The stock market opened with some indications of a resumption of yesterday's active and higher movement. Most of the leading issues, particularly the authracite shares, Harriman and Hill issues, and numerous industrials and special stocks were up from substantial fractions to a point, some of these gains being extended in the very busy forenoon.

Realizing sales and short selling wiped out a large part of the rise in the early afternoon, and in the final hour advanced steadily.

There was considerable pressure against U. S. Steel and some of the coppers, none of which had participated materially in the early upward movement.

Bonds were at first increased, but became irregular with the late reaction in stocks. Total sales, par value, $2,650,000. U. S government bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales, 433,500 shares, including: Amalgamated Copper, 31,000; Chesapeake and Ohio, 1,100; Louisville and Nashville, 1,000; Norfolk and Western, 1,900; Reading, 69,600; Seaboard Air Line, 100; do. preferred, 500; Southern Railway, 2,600; do. preferred, 2,000; Tennessee Copper, 500; United States Steel, 39,500; Virginia-Carolina Chemical, 1,200.

The Men Who Succeed

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half-alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at R. R. WERE THREE MURDERED?

American Named Craven Reported Killed by Rebels

Washington, Sept. 18.—Later reports of the massacre of Nicaraguan loyal troops at Leon on August 19th, mention an American named Craven as having been murdered with Dodd, another American, but made no further mention of Phillips, also reported killed.

Officials are in doubt whether Craven and Phillips are the same or if three Americans were murdered. The old Federal general Duron, was hacked to pieces by a woman with a machette. Craven, wounded and unarmed, was being carried to a hut by Dodd, when the rebels fell upon them.

in the event of war regular rates would be paid for the transportation of troops.

"Special privilege will not treat its own people as decently as it treats others. The United States Steel Corporation sold its armor plate at Portsmouth, England, for the Japanese navy at 50 per cent. of the price it charged the United States government, and I don't blame it for doing so. A government that hands an industry a bludgeon with which to knock down its own citizens ought, itself, to be knocked down. This is one bit of easy money that I do not begrudge the United States Steel Corporation.

"The control of the trusts by standpatter and Progressive, as proposed by their platforms, is practically the same. From the text of their platforms no sermon can be preached which does not praise the protective system, which is responsible, in large part, for the high cost of living, for the levying of a tribute of $100 a year off every man, woman and child in America for the benefit of the trust magnate, and for the destitution and helplessness of the working man's condition.

"The real fight between the standpatter and the Progressive is not at Armageddon—it is here and now; the real fight is to determine which shall be the scape-goat to carry the sins of the party into the wilderness of forgetfulness."

SUICIDE NEAR DUNN.

Young Woman Ends Her Life—Cotton Market Active—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., Sept. 18.—The town and community were very much shocked Monday to hear that Miss Ella Hudson, daughter of Mr. Y. B. Hudson, who lives about two miles from town, had committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. It seems that Miss Hudson was engaged to a young man or that they had been sweethearts for some time, and the supposed lover was married to another girl on the preceding Sunday. About 10 o'clock Miss Hudson was seen in her room and when they called her for dinner she did not answer and upon investigation was found cold in death. Mr. Hudson is a very substantial farmer and his family stand high in the community.

Saturday was a red letter day on the Dunn cotton market, 335 bales of the fleecy staple were sold here by the farmers on that day. The crop is considered very short, taking the county as a whole, but the warm weather is causing it to open very rapidly and the farmers are rushing it to the market and are paying off their guano bills. The merchants all report fine sales and collections.

Several of Dunn's young people left this morning to take up their Winter's work in school: Mr. Robert Young went to Tennessee Military School, Sweetwater, Tenn.; Mr. William Thompson returned to Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and Miss Esther Wade left for the State Normal, Greensboro.

Rev. J. H. Shore is spending the week in Fayetteville assisting in a revival meeting which is being held in the Methodist church.

The building fever seems to have struck the town, the old sale and livery stable, formerly occupied by R. M. Pearsall, is being torn down and will be replaced by a large brick warehouse; Mr. M. L. Jackson has purchased a lot near the A. C. L. depot and will erect a two-story building to be used by himself as a plumbing and tinners' shop.

ANOTHER HAZING INCIDENT.

Raleigh Boy Said to be Laid Up in Wake Forest Infirmary.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 18.—In the light of recent college hazing developments and the determined movement likely to result for ending for all time this practice in North Carolina, there is special interest in the fact just developed here that Russell Ferral, a freshman of Wake Forest College, is recovering in the infirmary there from the effects of hazing. He is a son of Prof. A. J. Ferrall of Meredith College. Nothing being heard from him here for several days, special inquiry of the college authorities brought the information that he was laid up in the infirmary. It seems several times right after the opening of college hazers called at Ferrall's boarding house for him, but the landlady discovered them and made the hazers clear out without their intended victim. Finally they slipped in, captured their man and put him through stunts that resulted in infirmary treatment for several days. Assurances came from the college that Ferrall's injuries are not really serious.

MONEY TO REMOVE CROPS

Bankers Apply to Treasury Department for Public Deposits

Washington, Sept. 17.—Bankers are applying to the Treasury Department for deposits of public money to be used in connection with financing the big crop.

Applicants, it is said, have not yet raised the cry of stringency, but base their requests upon published reports that Secretary MacVeagh has the subject under consideration. Applications have been received from New York, Philadelphia, Louisville and the Central West.

Robert O. B. Bailey, assistant secretary of the treasury, within a few days will go to Dublin, N. H., the Summer home of Secretary MacVeagh, to discuss the necessity of depositing some of the government's surplus funds to facilitate the crop financing and movement.

RADIUM IS ORDERED

Kinston Physician to Use It—Farmers' Union—Miniature Zoo

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 18.—A minute quantity of radium, the first of the precious substance ever in Kinston, will be received shortly by Dr. W. T. Parrott, a well-known local physician. The date of its arrival is not known, as the securing of the stuff at a specified time is not assured in the contract with the New York concern which will make the purchase in the European market for Dr. Parrott. The quantity purchased by the physician will cost something over $900, and since radium was last "quoted" at $75,000 a gramme, the amount he will receive will be less than one seventy-fifth of a gramme. It is said to be worth 400 times its weight in diamonds, and a piece as large as a pin head is worth $1,000. It will be employed by Dr. Parrott, who is a member of the staff of the McDaniel Memorial Hospital here, in the treatment of cancerous growth, moles and similar afflictions.

It is of interest to admirers of Geo. Suggs in his home city to learn that Cincinnati's star twirler is leading the other pitchers of Hank O'Day's staff by 64 points. Suggs has pitched 35 games this season, winning 17 and losing 13, thus giving him a percentage of .564. Benton, also a Tarheel the next best of the Red's pitchers, played in 32 games, winning 16 and losing 16.

The Farmers' Union of Jones county will have a county meeting in Trenton Friday, when leaders of the work will address the planters. Dr. J. M. Templeton and W. G. Crowder, a member of the executive committee of the State Union, are among those expected to speak. On Saturday a large farmers' picnic at Pine Forest will hear Mr. Crowder speak on "The Farmers' Union." An educational address will be another feature of the programme at the latter place.

A decline in prices for dressed hogs, and an increase for animals on the hoof, is an unusual condition on the local market now. Prices today were quoted at 11 cents for the former, a decline of three cents within a month, and 10 cents for pigs on the hoof, a price not approached before in some time. No explanation is offered by the dealers and the condition is accepted simply as one of those mysterious fluctuations which occasionally happens in the meat market.

"One porcupine, including quills; one adult baboon, two small-sized baboons, one rattlesnake, five feet long and guaranteed to rattle." The foregoing is not descriptive of a nightmare, but is about the billing of an unusual consignment which is en route to this city from an animal dealer in Buffalo, N. Y. Under a shed in the rear of a little shop on the west side of Queen street, opposite the Kinston city hall, a dark, denlike place, is sheltered a queer family. It is the zoological collection of Geo. Gray, an eccentric old man of the neighborhood, who is well-known in the city. His strange pets are a source of curiosity to the farmer folk who stop in that end of town. The family has been more numerous than at present, but a genuine South American ant-eater died, a native rattlesnake couldn't stand the Winter and died in the throes of a chill, and numerous other crawling and creeping and climbing things kicked out in their natural time, until now there remain only a big black bear, his mate, and an undersized alligator, who is already beginning to wonder why he can't burrow through the bottom of his packing case home and make his Winter lodging. The interesting specimens which will arrive today or tomorrow will replenish and enliven the miniature zoo, which has long been a hobby of old Mr. Gray.

HEARINGS BEGIN MONDAY.

Whitman and Assistant Will Remain in Hot Springs.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 18.—District Attorney Whitman tonight received a telegram from New York announcing that the interrogatories and authorization for a commission to examine persons who talked with Sam Schepps, a Rosenthal murder witness arrested here, would not be posted to Judge C. F. Huff, the special commissioner, until tomorrow.

The hearing before Judge Huff will not begin until the authorization is received here, which probably will be Saturday.

Mr. Whitman and Assistant District Attorney Rubin will remain here for the hearing which may not be until Monday.

EX-SENATOR MONEY DEAD.

Former Member of Congress From Mississippi Passes.

Biloxi, Miss., Sept. 18.—Former Senator Heraldo De Soto Money, of Mississippi, died at his home near here this evening of uraemic poisoning. He was 74 years of age.

The body of the late Senator H. D. Money tomorrow will be sent to Carrollton, Miss, his former home, where burial will be made.

Alexandria, Va., Sept. 18.—With the election of officers for the ensuing year and the selection of a place for the next annual meeting the convention of the League of Virginia Municipalities, which has been in session here today came to a close. John W. Wood, of Roanoke, was elected president; L. C. Brinson, of Portsmouth, secretary and treasurer, and W. H. Sargeant, of Norfolk, first vice president. Roanoke was chosen as the place for the next meeting.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 18.—Additions to the Harvard football squad have brought the total number of players out for the varsity 11 to 70. The charging machine is used on the candidates for line positions and much kicking practice is being indulged in on the order of Coach Houghton, who hopes to develop a good substitute for Elton, the punter. Hardwick is showing up well, surpassing the best kicks of the other players by 15 yards.

Middletown, Ohio, Sept. 18.—Gordon Kyle, a Freshman in the Middletown High School, lies at the point of death at his home at Kyles Station as a result of hazing. It is charged that he was compelled to push a pencil across the floor of the school gymnasium with his nose and while doing so he was urged along by being frequently kicked, with the result that his spine has been seriously injured.

to do?" asked the coroner.

The witness hesitated for a minute and then replied:

"I am a foreigner and I am confused. I think I had better not make any statement on that point until after I have made my affidavits for District Attorney Rogers, of Orange county."

Coroner Houghton did not press the witness.

Tiechman was followed on stand by Mrs. Stern, a neighbor of Mrs. Szabo's.

She told of the many visits of Lawyer Gibson to the Austrian woman and of his stopping the postman on the streets and getting Mrs. Szabo's mail, both before and after her death.

"I thought at first," said she, "that they were lovers."

Mrs. Stern was asked if Mrs. Szabo had spoken to her about her first visit to Greenwood Lake with Gibson three days before she died.

"No," said Mrs. Stern, "but she told my neighbor, Mrs. Merritt, about it. She said the boat tipped over and that it was lucky for her the water wasn't deep, that she couldn't swim."

BOSTON GETTING READY.

World's Series as It Will Pertain to the Hub City.

Boston, Sept. 18.—Arrangements for the baseball games in the coming world's champion series at Fenway Park are well under way. Nearly 100 clerks and carpenters are at work completing the arrangements for accommodating between 30,000 and 35,000 persons.

The Boston management has adopted an elaborate system of protection against the securing of tickets by speculators.

It is announced that all of the 15,000 reserved seats will be distributed in person, except in the general allotments to the National Baseball Commission and to the players. No tickets will be sent out by mail, registered or otherwise. No money is accepted with applications. Only those requests for tickets for all the games in this city are being noticed, and only one ticket will be issued for three games.

ADMITS FORGING CHECKS

Prominent Lumberman Squandered Fortune In Drink

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—Waldemar B. Archer, a lumberman well-known here and in New Orleans, is in jail and admits forging eight checks for an aggregate amount of $82, after having squandered his savings of $40,000 for drink in the last five years. Six of the checks were on the First National Bank of Beaumont, Texas, and two on the First National, of Pensacola, Fla., in both of which cities he is acquainted.

Five years ago, according to his statement, he retired as secretary of the Malvern Lumber Company of Arkansas, and since then he says he has wandered aimlessly from coast to coast, spending his savings of $40,000 principally for drink. For short times he held responsible positions in Careysville, Fla., and Pickering, La.

Archer says he will make good the checks when "he gets on his feet."

Lake Charles, La., Sept. 18.—Judge Winston Overton late today overruled the motion of the defense to quash the indictments charging murder against 65 members of the Brotherhood of Timber Workers in connection with the Grabow mill riot on July 7th. Immediately after the court's ruling 58 of the accused, who are in custody here, were arraigned and pleaded not guilty. The case was fixed for trial October 7th.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 18.—The Princeton football coaches have apparently decided that football this year is to be an open game and they are devoting all their energies to perfecting the candidates in wide shifts and forward, double and delayed passes. An innovation in the early games will be the extensive use of line men as ground gainers.

Bridgeton, N. J., Sept. 18.—A straw hat riot here last night got beyond the control of the police and order was not restored until the firemen appeared as reinforcements and dispersed the crowds with fire hose. No arrests were made. Several hundred straw hats were destroyed and many black eyes were taken home by combatants.

Greenville, S. C., Sept. 18.—John F. Warren, who disappeared from New Orleans several days ago, immediately after taking a position in the Weather Bureau there, has arrived at the home of his parents here. He said today that he was not pleased with his position or the city of New Orleans so went to visit relatives in the State of Mississippi.

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 18.—Head Coach Howard of the Naval Academy football team, will begin to cut his big squad of fourth class men within a day or two and only the most promising will join the main squad which assembles here next Monday. The first scrimmage work of the season is scheduled for Saturday of this week.

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 18.—Application for a writ of habeas corpus was made today by counsel as the next step to secure the release of J. B. Snead under indictment for the murder of Al G. Boyce, Jr. This decision was reached after failure to agree on the amount of bond.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 18.—Rev. Isiah B. Grubbs, a member of the faculty of the College of Bible here, and one of the most widely known teachers in the Christian Church of America, died today. He was 79 years old.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 18.—Sida Edwards and Friel Allen, sentenced to serve 18 and 15 years imprisonment for participation in the Hillsville murders, were brought to the penitentiary here today.

What We Never Forget

according to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivaled for piles, corns or cold-sores. Only 25 cents at R. R. Bellamy's.

"WINDOW" ENVELOPES.

Condemned by National Association of Postoffice Employes.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 18.—"Window" envelopes were condemned as detrimental to those handling them and as working against the quick disposition of the mails, in resolutions adopted here today by the National Association of Supervisory Postoffice Employes.

The reflection from the transparencies through which the address is shown, it is contended, is injurious to the eyesight and an order ruling this class of coverings from the mails is urged.

Ernest Green, Baltimore, president, and all of the present officers were re-elected at the concluding session of the 1912 convention this afternoon. Toledo, Ohio, was selected as the next place of meeting.
